CENOTAPHS.

THE DUST OF LONG DEPARTED GREATNESS

A City Without Enduring Monuments to the Head of State—The Congressional Burying Ground—The Ugly Slabs—Facts from the Grave—Last Request of an Indian Chief.

WASHINGTON, August 13.—The marble for the Washington monument is arriving at last and the indications are that work will be resumed before long. It is a curious fact that, in this city of monuments and statuary, so rich in out-door art, so to speak, there are so few monuments to the presidents of the country of which this is the capital city. There is besides the Washington monument an equestrian statue to and of him. There are a couple of statues to Lincoln, an equestrian statue of Jackson, one of Jefferson in the capitol, but as to any general system of honoring the memory of the presidents, dead or living, there is none. Indeed there is not as much effort in this direction as in regard to the departed congressmen. There are at the "congressional cemetery" about 150 "cenotaphs" erected to the memory of dead congressmen, who died in the service, while members of congress or in some branch of the government service.

There are a few blocks here that mark the present resting places of the dust of the departed, but the large majority mark what the name literally means, an empty tomb. Until the past fifteen years, the memory of every congressman who has died during the term of his service was perpetuated "in enduring stone" by the erection of a cenotaph to his memory in the "Congressional cemetery," as it is called. The stone, however, has turned out to be less "enduring" than was anticipated, especially that erected at a late date when the cupidity of contractors seems to have given them willingness to even rob the dead. The cenotaphs erected to perpetuate the memory of those whose dust reposes elsewhere, and the monuments over the graves of those who lie here are of brown standstone procured from the quarries in this vicinity. They are rather unsightly looking objects, for they have all been copied after the first ones erected and the art of the gravestone-maker was not then as fully developed as now.

They are square sandstone blocks, about two and one-half feet square and four feet high, standing upon a base of the same material, and surmounted by a round block with a peaked top, which looks very much like a cheese box run to seed. A few of them have marble slabs let in at the side in the form of a panel, for the lettering, but they are the exception. On most of them the inscriptions are cut in the sandstone itself. They were some years ago painted white, by order of congress, but time has obliterated much of this, as it has also the memory of the men in whose honor they were erected, and they are now a shabby, sorry looking lot. As indicated above, the workmanship and material of some of the later ones are wretched, and they are literally falling to pieces, while the older ones still stand in good condition.

The Congressonal cemetery, so-called, is not, as many suppose, a government institution, though a large portion of it is owned by the government, having been purchased long since as a resting place for those who fall in its service here in Washington. The cemetery is one of the oldest in the city. It is the property of Christ church, Episcopal, one of the oldest churches in the city, and if you want to see an indignant individual just intimate to the one in charge of the cemetery that you suppose it to be a government affair. The government, however, does own strips of ground streiching along the principal avenues, and it is upon these that the long rows of shabby-looking cenotaphs stand intermingled with a few similar blocks that really cover the dust of dead statesmen. Beside these there are many other monuments on the government lots which mark the resting place of others who died in the service of the government—generals, cabinet officers, and two vice presidents

Two of the four vice-presidents who died in harness rest here. They are George Clinton and Elbridge Gerry. Gerry was a signer of the declaration of independence, and Clinton was an officer of the revolutionary war. Over Gerry's grave is a large marble monument erected by order of congress, and bearing this sentence from one of his speeches: It is the duty of every citizen, though he may have but one day to live, to devote that day to the service of his country. Over the dust of vice-President Clinton is a monument erected by his children, bearing these words: "To the memory of George Clinton. He was born in the state of New York on the 26th of July, 1739, and died at the city of Washington on the 20th of April, 1811, in the seventy-third year of his age. He was a soldier and statesman of the revolution. Eminent in council, distinguished in war, he filled with unexampled usefulness, purity and ability, among many other high offices, those of governor of his native state and vice president of the United States. While he lived his virtue, wisdom and honor were the pride, the ornament and security of his country, and when he died he left an illustrious example of a well spent life worthy of all imitation."

Another fine monument near by, one of the handsomest in the large cemetery, is erected to the memory of William Wirt, attorney general from 1817 to 1829. He rests almost within sight of his birthplace, Bladensburg, the historic dueling ground of years agone. Not far from his remains lie those of Jonathan Cilley, a member of congress from Maine, who met his death on this field in a duel with the fiery Graves of Kentucky.

A striking example of the hatred in which the name of Lincoln was held by some ignoble minds during the early part of the war, is seen but a few feet from Cilley's grave, where the sandstone block above the grave of Benjamin Lincoln Lear, a member of congress who died during his term of office, has been disfigured by some vandal hand, the name "Lincoln" having been cut out with some rude instrument. This occurred during the early part of the war, and all effort of the officers of the cemetery to find the perpetrator was unavailing.

Nobody knows exactly the number of congressmen who now lie in this ground. In earlier years, when there were few railroads and the members came by stage or in their own conveyances, few who died here were returned to their homes for interment. Later on, however, the custom changed, and since 1864 none have been buried here for permanent interment. The receiving vault of the cemetery has contained the clay of many distinguished persons who were finally interred at other places, among the number being Presidents Taylor and Harrison. The remains of one senator lay in the vault unclaimed for years, and were finally removed by the officials of the cemetery and buried at their own cost. So soon are we forgot.

The first congressman buried in these grounds was Uriah Tracy, of Connecticut, a general in the revolutionary war, who died here in 1807. The last was Lemuel Boden, a member from West Virginia, who died in 1864. How many there were between the records of the cemetery do not show with accuracy, the removals having not always been noted upon the books.

Upon the cenotaphs are many historic names, among them Clay, Calhoun, Lovejoy, Adams and Stevens, and upon a shaft near by is the name of Pushmataha, the Indian chief, who died here in 1824, saying, "When I am gone let the big guns be fired over me."

DORSEY CONFIRMED.

How Stephenson Directed the Golden Stream in the Indiana Campaign.

WASHINGTON, August 13.—Stevenson, the New York banker who Dorsey says paid out all the money used in the Indiana campaign, while in this city during the last week of the last session of congress, told the story of the Indiana campaign of 1880 to the gentleman whose guest he was. He said he went to Indiana at the especial request of Mr. Arthur, the latter saying: "It is of the greatest personal interest to me, and the sooner you go the better." "I told him," said Mr. Stephenson, "that I should have to consult Judge Kelly, of our bank, first, and see if he could spare me, and would give an answer the next day." Judge Kelly having given his consent, Stephenson set out the following day.

"Arrived at Indianapolis," said Mr. Stephenson, "I found I had a responsible duty to perform. I was obliged to stay in a back room, not well lighted, night and day to guard the money—there was a pile of it—and pay it out on orders. I did pay it out on orders, all of which were written. I kept these orders as vouchers, and have got them yet, and they represent every cent paid by me. It was that money that did the business in Indiana. It was not altogether a pleasant task. I had to stay right there all the time and guard the money, much of the time being left alone, with nothing but a revolver for my protection."

Mr. Stephenson says that the money was given in sums ranging from a few hundred to many thousands of dollars, to certain chosen leaders in the various townships of the state, who disbursed it in their immediate neighborhood among the purchasable element. So much of Dorsey's story as relates to the disbursement of money is thus corroborated by an account of the financial work of that campaign related here in March last.

RETURN OF OSCAR WILDE.

He is to Produce His New Play and Pays America the Usual Compliment.

NEW YORK, August 13.—Oscar Wilde, the great apostle of aestheticism, arrived in this city from Liverpool on the steamship Britannic, of the White Star line, and registered at the Hotel Brunswick. Mr. Wilde has undergone a complete transformation since his former visit to this country. The long and flowing locks have been discarded and given over to the shears, and Oscar looks, in the language of a fellow-passenger, "like a rational being." His front hair—in spite of Mrs. Langtry's edict—is cut squarely across in the most approved style of "bang."

On being asked the purpose of his visit to New York the poet aesthete said: "I come to attend the rehearsals of my play, 'Vera,' which is to be produced at the Union Square theater on August 20. There were some details in regard to colors, dresses and scenery that I wanted to look after myself, so I just ran over for a few weeks. I cannot remain long in this country, for I have several engagements to lecture in England."

"Your new play has a political aspect, I believe?" said the reporter.

"Yes, and that is the reason it was not produced in England, because they said it trenched on political subjects. So here I am coming to America to produce my play, instead of bringing it out in my native land. Americans are without prejudices, and it can be produced here without fear or favor. 'Vera' is a five-act play in prose. It is my first attempt at dramatic prose of any kind."

"On your return to England, did you not find that the aesthetic school had proved a failure?" asked the reporter.

"Oh, dear no. On the contrary, it has been a great success. A careful inspection will show that the whole scheme of color is altered. If we hear less of the movement just at present, it is because the victory has been already won."

What practical result has been brought about by your school?"

"An entire alteration of our domestic decorations and the elevation of the artisan into an artist. Thus we find that handicraft has been given an increased dignity. Besides the general feeling was produced among the public that art is the chief joy and delight of life, and so we find daily delight in the household."

"But knee-breeches have not yet come in vogue to any great extent?"

"No; and for the reason that an alteration of men's dress is the most difficult reform to make in the sphere of fashion, which is another name for stupidity. On this point fashion still holds its ground. But after all, what does it matter? A man can be a poet and wear any style of coat; indeed he need not wear a coat at all to be a poet. But in the dress of females there is a change, and also in the dress of children. The books of Kate Greenaway and Walter Crane have greatly aided in the latter reform. Once it was tried, it was found to be inexpensive and made the children look very charming and made them feel comfortable. So you see that the aesthetic school has not been a failure.

PROVING HER LOVE.

Dora Bryant Shoots Herself to Show Her Lover She Is True.

CINCINNATI, August 13.—Between 10 and 11 o'clock night before last Miss Dora Bryant created a sensation at a boarding house where she was a servant by attempting suicide with a pistol. The aim was for the heart, but only a dangerous flesh wound was inflicted. The girl is pretty and has had one child. The girl tells her story in the following words:

"My name is Dora Bryant. My parents have been dead eight years. I departed from the path of duty once through temptation and deception, but since my boy was born four years ago I have led a correct life. I have an aunt and sister living near Alpine, seven miles south of this city. Last March I met the man whom I have tried to convince of my constancy by attempting my own life, as I did last night, and only wish to God I had succeeded. We made an appointment to meet each other at my sister's residence yesterday evening. I went to my sister's, and as it began raining in the evening I thought he would not come, and seeing Mr. J. M. Massey going past in his buggy, I asked him to let me drive to Alpine, where I expected to take the train and come home. On the way we met my lover three miles from the city. He seemed very angry to see me with Mr. Massey. I insisted on getting in with him. As we came home he was violently angry with me because I had, as he said, met Massey by appointment. I denied it bitterly, and protested that I had always been true to him, but he would not believe me. He said he would never speak to me again. He is not to blame for what I have done. I hope I will die of the wound. I don't want to live."

The American Catholic Council.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., August 13.—The Post Dispatch has it from reliable authority that the conference of the American archbishops will take place in Rome, in November, and that a preliminary conference council of the archbishops will probably be held in Baltimore. The pope has also invited each of the religious orders in the United States to attend the conference in Rome. Very Rev Father Kelly, president of the Jesuit Theological seminary, at Georgetown, D. C., and for many years provincial of the province of Georgetown, and Very Rev. Father Higgins, pastor of St. Xaviers church, this city, are the delegates chosen to represent the order of St Iganaius Loyalo at Rome.

LONDON, August 18.—A correspondent of the Manchester Guardian, says the chief prelates of the Roman Catholic church in Europe and America, will assemble at the vatican in November next, as the pope desires to consult them as to the means of maintaining friendly relations with all powers.

CUTTING THE WIRES.

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY CUT IN ONE NIGHT.

Meeting of the Senate Committee on Labor in New York—Striker Campbell Giving His Evidence—Before the Body—Tyrannous Course of the Company Toward Its Employes.

NEW YORK, August 13.—Press Agent Somerville, of the Western Union telegraph company, said this morning that since 9 o'clock last night, 150 wires had been cut. Twelve of the gold and stock wires were cut in this city between midnight and daylight. Linemen were said to be out repairing the damage. The Western Union company has employed detectives to watch their wires, but so far no reports of arrests of wire-cutters have been made. Mr. Somerville said the states in which the wires were cut would have to pay for the damages and expenses of repairing them. The striking men persistently deny that they cut any of the wires. The officers of the Western Union company say they are well up with their business and need but a few more telegraphers to place them in as good circumstances as before the strike. Of 153 offices of the company in this city 71 are non-union.

THE SENATE COMMITTEE ON LABOR.

The sub committee of the United States senate committee on labor and education begun its sessions to-day in the postoffice building. The members present were: Senators Blair, of N. H. chairman; George, of Mississippi; Pugh, of Alabama; Call, of Florida and Aldrich, of Rhode Island. The special subject of the sub committee's investigation is strikes and labor movements in general, the object being to obtain information which may be used in securing future legislation to protect them. The committee had several sessions last winter when several witnesses were examined. The first witness to-day was John Campbell, of Pittsburg, master workman of the telegraphers brotherhood. He testified that he had been a telegraph operator over twenty years, and had been connected with the knights of labor and the brotherhood of telegraphers for two years. There were between 18,000 and 19,000 telegraphers in the United States and Canada, who are members of the brotherhood, and the whole membership is about 22,000. The cause of the strike was the refusal to grant the demand on the part of the operators for increased compensation, a decrease in hours, and extra compensation for Sunday work. Since 1870 the salaries of telegraph operators had been systematically cut down, and the object of the strike was to bring the rate of compensation back to its former standard. The operators were now paid a fixed salary per month, the average rate throughout the country being about $54 for commercial operators, and $39 a month for railroad operators. The average rate for railroad operators in Pennsylvania, by an actual census, is $38 85 per month. The rate of wages for first-class commercial operators now ranged from $80 to $85 per month. Salaries in New York city were higher than those in the smaller cities with the exception of New Orleans, Memphis and Nashville, where the scale of wages was about equal to that in this city. The lowest rate for commercial operators were from thirty-five to forty dollars a month for operators at small way stations. Before the reduction in wages rates were from thirty-five to forty per cent higher than at present. In 1870, first class operators could make from $90 to $120 month. These rates extended back to the time of the beginning of the war, when the scale of wages was about the same as it is at present for railroad operators, and that for commercial men a little higher. The Western Union company employs a quarter of all the operators in the country and about two-thirds are railroad operators. The American Rapid company employs only about one-fifth as many operators as the Western Union. The protest of the brotherhood was against all the companies and all the employers of telegragh operators. The rate of wages was not considered sufficient to live on, and was much below that of common day laborers in many instances. The companies were able to pay higher wages to their men without increasing the rates for services to the public. This was evidenced from the large dividends paid by the Western Union, besides their facilities for transmitting messages had been increased by the invention of duplex and quadruplex instrumenis. There had been no reduction in the tariff in consequence of these improvements, but on the other hand the wages of operators were cut down. The number of operators had doubled since 1870, while the facilities of the companies had more than doubled. The Western Union in that year handled seven million messages, and last year the number was thirty-five million. Mr. Campbell related the history of the strike since its beginning. There was a convention of the brotherhood, he said, held in Chicago last March, at which a bill of grievances was drawn up. This was presented to the different local assemblies of the brotherhood throughout the United States and Canada, who unanimously ratified the action of the convention. The returns to the executive board were made about two months ago, and the committee was instructed to present the demands of the operators to the different companies, and they were also empowered to arbitrate on any propositions that might be made by the companies. On the 16th of July the demands were presented to the Western Union, the American Rapid, the Baltimore and Ohio, the Commercial and the numerous telephone companies in the city. The only answer which as yet has been received is from the American Rapid company, which has partially acceded to the demands of the brotherhood. The answer of the Western Union company to the appeal of the operators was that it was not shown whether the committee had authority to speak for the employes of the company. Mr. Campbell said that 99 per cent of the employes were members of the brotherhood. The operators had frequently presented their grievances to the local managers for an increase of wages, but these had been disregarded. It was generally believed that the Western Union company had a well established system of black-listing men who made application for an increase of wages and took the first opportunity of discharging them from its employ on some pretext or other. Favoritism was shown by all the local managers, and skill was at a discount. A system of intimidation was practiced by the officials of the company. Since 1870 several movements had been started to organize the operators, but all had failed on account of this system of intimidation. Mr. Campbell also intimated that by the process of watering its stock, practiced by the Western Union, whenever it had absorved a competing line, the company was now paying at least 28 per cent dividends on the real value of its stock. He also stated that the work of an operator was very wearing and exhausting, and men seldom lived long who continued in the business. Many left it after following it for a score of years, and this was about the limit of an average man's endurance.

AVENGING AN INSULT.

John McClellan, an officer of the brotherhood and an operator of fourteen years standing, was next examined. He said that the direct cause of the strike was the insult offered by the Western Union company to the committee of the brotherhood in refusing to recognize or treat with them. Until then it had not been expected that the strike would occur, but it was thought the company would be willing to listen to the demands of the men and come to some adjustment if possible. The grievances were real ones, and if there had been a spirit of concession manifested by the company, the operators would have met them in this spirit. It was shown that General Eckert and other officers of the company had known of the plans of the brotherhood before the strike began. The company knew that the grievances existed, and that the demands were to be presented, and had been preparing to resist these demands ever since March last. In regard to the grievances the salaries of the operators were of secondary importance while the length of working hour and Sunday work without additional compensation was the greatest grievance. Mr. Orton, when president of the Western Union, said six hours a day was sufficient for any operator to work in order to do justice to the company. The operators now only asked that eight hours be considered a day's work. As to wages inferior men were getting larger pay than firstclass men. This was the result of favoritism on the part of the officials. If the present strike was a failure it would only strengthen the existing organization.

CRIME AND CASUALTY.

A Fearful Array of Throat-Cutting—Suicides and Murders.

LINCOLN, Neb., August 13.—A heavy thunder storm prevails here. Yesterday three boys, named Robert Miller, William Miller, brotaers, and Ernest Smith, who had taken refuge under a tree, were struck and instantly killed by lightning. Several houses were struck and four persons were injured. The telephone exchange was set on fire, but the flames were extinguished before much damage was done.

DILLON, Mont., August 13.—On Wednesday last a man named Lewis was discovered endeavoring to secrete the remains of a young woman near this town. It was found, upon examination, that the whole top of her head had been blown off by a gunshot, and Lewis was arrested. He claims that the woman was traveling with him, and was killed by the accidental discharge of a gun. Becoming frightened, he endeavored to conceal the matter.

DENVER, Col., August 13.—At Pueblo, Colorado, yesterday morning, a gambler named Frank Hutchinson cut the throat of a woman who passed as his wife, in their room, but not killing her instantly, she jumped from the second-story window to the ground. The police witnessed the leap and kicked in the door of the room whence she fled, and found Hutchinson dead with his throat cut from ear to ear, his hand still grasping the razor with which he had cut the woman and himself. Though able to testify before the coroner, the woman cannot live. Her real name is said to be Irene Davenport, alias Pomeroy. She has relatives living at Muscatine, Iowa.

SUICIDE OF MRS. ALLISON.

An United States Senator's Wife Seeks Solace in th Mississippi River.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, August 13.—Mrs. A. B. Allison, wife of Senator Allison, drowned herself in the Mississippi river sometime during last night. She left home yesterday afternoon, after one o'clock, telling her servant that she was going to one of her near neighbors. Instead of this, however, taking her gossamer under her arm, she went in the opposite direction toward the country, where she had been accustomed to take daily walks. It is ascertained that she wandered around in the outskirts of the city during the afternoon, where she was seen by several persons walking rapidly and apparently somewhat excited. This morning her body was discovered, shortly after seven o'clock, in the river about a mile below the city. She had cut up her gossamer, placed some stones in it, and tied them securely about her neck, then walked deliberately to the river, about 35 feet from the bank, laid down and drowned herself where the water was only two and a half feet deep. Mrs. Allison was of a highly nervous temperament, and during the last two or three years has suffered from and been treated for mental disease. While at a water cure establishment in western New York in 1881, under medical treatment, she attempted suicide in much the same manner, but was rescued. She was the niece and adopted daughter of the late Senator Grimes, of Iowa, and had been married for ten years. She had no children. Senator Allison was absent from home, and has not yet returned.

THE SUNDAY WAR.

The Advocates of Sabbath Observance Winning in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, August 13.—The confidence of the saloon keepers in their fight against the Sunday law does not seem to be so well grounded as the more active of them supposed. The number of new violations of the law reported by the police to-day was comparatively few. The first newspaper cases against Carl Darenzor, editor of the Anzeiger Des Westerns, and Emil Pretorius, editor of the Westlich Post, were called in the court of criminal correction this morning. Although both editors had given bond, they were not present, neither were they represented by counsel. The court gave defendant the benefit of the doubt, and instead of forfeiting their bonds continued the cases till September 4th. This afternoon Judge Noonan decided that the state must prove that the street cars are not necessary in order to convict the officers of the companies who are on trial for violating the law for running cars on Sunday. All cases instituted against the street companies under the Sunday law will therefore be dismissed.

HS HOTEL DEVON.

Another Hostelrie Succumbs to the Flames—Tannery Burned.

Philadelphia, August 13.—The hotel Devon, a fashionable summer hotel on the line of the Pennsylvania road, about 18 miles from this city, was burned to the ground about 10 a. m. this morning. No lives were lost. The hotel was full of guests who saved the greater part of their property. The furniture of the hotel was burned. Breakfast was in progress when the fire broke out. One hundred and twenty-five guests and about one hundred employes were in the house. The building was valued at $75,000 and insured for $43,000. The barn of Mrs. Sush, three-quarters of a mile from the scene of the conflagration, caught from the flying cinders and was destroyed.

UTICA, N. Y., August 13.—The large tannery of P. & P. Castillo at Camden was burned last night together with a large amount of stock. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

A SHOSHONE TRAGEDY.

The Horrible Torture Inflicted upon a Squaw by Her Husband.

SALT LAKE, August 13.—Mr. Springer, just from Rule valley, gives an account of a horrible affair among the Shoshone Indians. One of their number got mad at his squaw and killed her in a cruel and horrid manner. He first broke her arms and legs, and then, while still alive, covered her up in a grave. The members of the tribe concluded to fix him, which they did by taking him out among some trees, tying his hands behind him; then tying his feet together, they took a strong cord and tied his feet to a tree, the Indian lying on the ground on his back. A long rope was then placed around his neck with a single loop, the ends extending out on either side. A number of big, strong bucks took hold of the rope ends, and with a strong and steady pull they choked the murderer until he became a good Indian. They then went away satisfied with their work.

THE KIMBALL.

EVENTS OF YESTERDAY AROUND THE RUINS.

The Recovery of the Valuables from the Vaults and Safes—Interesting Incidents Picked Up—Where the Business Men are Holding Forth—The Matter of Rebuilding, Etc.

Yesterday the burning of the Kimball was the universal subject of conversation, and it was impossible to hear anything but comments on the fire. In passing along the streets every man, woman and child, was found to be discussing the burning, and ten thousand broken sentences about it reached the ears of the CONSTITUTION young men. Absolutely everybody talked fire, and the fire will doubtless continue to absorb all other topics for several days to come.

Yesterday morning the bare walls surrounded the piles of brick and debris from which in only a few places did the smoke rise sluggishly. The southern walls of the house leaned threateningly toward the inside and a large crack in the center warned everybody to take care. A rope was stretched around the walls at a distance of thirty or forty feet from the base and several policemen were kept busy seeing that the more reckless of the spectators did not get within danger's reach. The falling walls and cross walls had completely buried such of the furniture and baggage as was destroyed in the fire, and there was nothing left on the top to tempt thieves. The towering walls that had been left by the fire appeared too dangerous for the merely curious to venture past the dead line.

There were four vaults and several safes in the debris, and the first thing of importance that was done yesterday was the examination of some of them. The vault at the corner of Decatur and Pryor streets was used by the real estate agents, Messrs. Goode, Fontaine & Elmore. It was easily opened and was found to be all right. The papers and other valuables that it contained were safe. There was not a thing destroyed. The contents of the vault were removed, and the door was left standing open. It had proven a secure place to the property that had been entrusted to it.

The central place of interest was the vault of the Gate City National bank, at the corner of Pryor and Wall streets. The vault contained hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of important papers and securities, besides a great amount of cash. It was found that the door of the vault could not be opened, even by the skilled hand of Mr. John Berkele, and a hole was started in the side of the wall by the removal of brick. At the end of a short time the hole was completed, and it was easy to go in and examine the safe on the inside. It was found that the safe yielded easily to the combination and the remarkable fact was developed that the time lock had not stopped but had faithfully gone on during the raging of the fire. The safe door swung back on its hinges and revealed everything safe and sound with not a scorch on anything. The valuables were then promptly handed out through the hole and were transferred to the Atlanta Nation bank, where the officers of the Gate City National bank are now quartered and where they will remain for a day or two until more permanent quarters are secured. The bank will probably secure the place formerly occupied by Langston & Crane, and if so will remain there until the new bank building is ready, which will be about three months.

The vault used by Whitner & Son, was opened by the combination and the papers on the inside were found to be safe and sound. There was no damage to anything and the contents of the vault were removed to the temporary office of the agency in the Jackson building.

The vault that was in the office of Mr. Frierson was not opened. It stood directly under the most dangerous part of the wall and no one was found who cared to venture to the door of the vault and clear the debris away. Mr. Berkele offered to go to the door of the vault and open it if Mr. Frierson could get anybody to go in and clear away the brick but he was not successful in that. It is hardly probably that anything was destroyed in the vault and it is confidently believed that all the papers will be found safe and sound. It develops that the deeds to the town lots at Oxanna were not destroyed. When the fire was raging some one rushed into the office and seized the first thing in reach. The papers were taken out and were barely noticed. It happened that Mr. Frierson had returned to his office from Anniston at a late hour, and feeling tired had laid the bundle of deeds on the counter thinking that there was no danger in so doing. It was those deeds that were saved and the title to nearly a hundred and fifty thousand dollars' worth of property was saved from the flames. Mr. Frierson was certain that the deeds had been destroyed and it was not until yesterday that they were found.

A man with a block and tackle was engaged by Colonel Adair to remove his safe from the debris. A number of workmen proceeded with the removal of the safe and it was taken out and moved across the railroad to the office at the rear of the Centennial block, where the office of Colonel Adair and the water works office will be for the present. The safe of the superintendent of the water works will be taken from the ruins of the building to-day.

TEARING DOWN THE WALLS.

Yesterday a pile of timber was placed at the corner of the building next to the Big Bonanza to be used in the erection of a scaffolding for tearing down the walls. The work will be superintended by Mr. J. G. Thrower, and will be commenced bright and early this morning. Mr. Thrower has been employed to do this by the owners of the property, and thinks that the work can be completed in a week. The first brick will be thrown from the walls at the corner of Decatur and Peachtree. The brick will be thrown to the inside of the walls and will be removed from there as fast as possible when the walls are put in such condition as to make it safe to do so. The wall at the southern side of the house which is now so threatening, will be pushed in. This material, which is for the most part of value will be quite expensive to remove and will be worth when removed about the cost of the removal. A large crowd will doubtless be attracted to see the men go to the tops of the walls and begin the work of tearing them down.

NO LIVES LOST.

A Talk with Mr. Scoville, in Which He Uses Convincing Argument.

In spite of the statements to the contrary there has been an opinion stubbornly held by many people that investigation would show the remains of some unfortunate person in the debris who was overlooked on the night of the fire. Mr. Arnold said of this opinion to a CONSTITUTION man yesterday:

"Such a thing is absolutely impossible. Here is our office rack and our register. They contain the name of every guest that was in our house as a transient guest and have a card inserted of every room that was occupied on the night of the fire. We have sifted these carefully and every man, woman and child is accounted for. If anybody was burned in the hotel, which is impossible, it was some man who had slipped to a room surreptitiously and occupied it without registering or without getting the key of the room from the office and that too was impossible."

Mr. Scoville here interrupted and said:

"I tell you that every room was open before I left the hotel. I went myself to every floor and sent trusted men after I had come down to see if every door was open. One of them reported to me that room 204 was still locked and that he could not break the door down. I ran up stairs immediately to 204. The smoke was then very dense in the hall but I could still see that the doors were open on each side as I passed. I kicked against the door of 204 and called at the top of my voice but could not force the door and did not get an answer. A gentleman started to pass me in the corridor and I stopped him and asked him to assist me in breaking down the door as there was a guest on the inside. We put our shoulders together and ran against the door and broke it in. As we did so Mr. Burnwell, who was the occupant of the room, had just started from his bed, and was coming to unlock the door. We then hurried down stairs. I am certain that when the Kimball house burned every door in the building on every floor was wide open, and that each room had been searched. Our register and room rack shows this to be true. I have a list of every servant employed in the house, and I have called the roll and find that everyone answers without exception. So that it is simply absurd to hold that any one was burned in the Kimball house, and in feeling assured of this, I am happy beyond what I can tell you, for I have always feared that the hotel could not be burned without the loss of several lives.

INCIDENTS OF THE FIRE.

Some Interesting Paragraphs Picked Up by the Reporters—Stories of the Fire.

Mr. Scoville said yesterday that only one man had called for his baggage and found it missing entirely, and that was Dr. Peck, of St Louis.

Messrs. Harralson & Bro. request that it be stated that their insurance was $25,000 instead of $20,000 as reported yesterday. They saved only a small portion of their stock instead of the bulk as reported on yesterday.

Senator Parks was one of the heroes of the fire. It is said that he carried ten thousand dollars' worth of silks and white goods out of Kiser's store, working until he was completely exhausted and then standing guard over the pile of goods that he had removed.

Mr. Isaac S. Boyd, the popular insurance agent, had rooms at the Kimball house, and lost his furniture, paintings and portraits valued at $2,000. He had a policy of insurance for $1,100 on it. His wife was absent from the city and missed the excitement of the burning.

Yesterday the walls of the southeastern corner of the building were standing to the fifth story. On the window sill of the fourth story, Mr. Willis Reagan's room, two earthen flower pots were sitting, having survived the roar of the flames and the excitement of the night. These and his clock were all that he saved.

The run of business at the Western Union telegraph office in consequence of the fire was something extraordinary. More than four hundred telegrams were received Sunday afternoon, the bulk of them being inquiries after friends or property, or news of the fire. It is said that more than four hundred local traveling men telegraphed to their houses wanting to know if they should come home and report.

Messrs. Crane & Boylston said on yesterday that $500 would cover their entire losses. Mr. Boylston said:

"We are insured for $130,000 on our stock. We surveyed the situation very carefully, and determined not to move our goods until the front of our store had taken fire. We had a force of thoroughly organized men, with drays at the back entrance, ready to rush things out, and were frequently tempted to move. At one time the boxes of shoes in the front part of our store were smoking with heat, and we looked for them to blaze every moment, but fortunately the heat subsided before there was combustion."

Mr. Kiser said that the loss from moving part of his stock was less than $5,000. He only moved the goods on one floor and had a very perfect system for transporting and guarding them. His store was open for business as usual yesterday morning, and many heavy bills were sold while the clerks and porters were arranging the goods. The firm desire that thanks be publicly returned to the following parties who rendered them valuable assistance: Senator Parks, J. A. Watson, Jack Sullivan, T. D. Meader, Jerry Goldsmith, T. J. Hightower, Lieutenant E. L. Vorhis, Miller & Brady, Southern express company, and others.

Mr. T. H. Bowles occupied an office at the old Book store, 8 Wall street, and lost many valuable papers—deeds, notes, etc., which will be impossible to replace. He was a dealer in patents and the inventor of the panoramic advertising device now being introduced on the street cars in this city, had many valuable models lost. One which was artistically and elaborately built. Showing his advertiser in motion cost a hundred dollars. Perhaps three or four hundred dollars would cover his losses, but the fire will cause him great inconvenience. His headquarters are now at the Markham.

The strangest dream story imaginable is told by Mr. Chauncey, the member of the house from Early county. He was rooming with Dr. Geer, of Calhoun, some distance from the centre of the city. At four o'clock he awoke, and calling up Dr. Geer, stated that he had dreamed that the Kimball house was on fire, and that he had heard Mr. Dews, also a member from Baker, calling for help. He dreamed that men, women and children were jumping from the windows in terror. Dr. Geer laughed at the idea, but Mr. Chauncey was so impressed that he dressed and started down town. As he drew near the center of the city the alarm was sounded, and when he got down town he found the Kimball on fire. Fortunately his dream did not come to pass in every particular.

An interesting story is told of how Mr. Hill got the news of the fire. A negro boy was sent with a dispatch announcing the burning of the Kimball house and the Gate City national bank, from Newnan to Mr. Hill's farm, twelve miles distant. He had instructions to ride it in an hour and-a-half if he had to kill the horse, so that Mr. Hill could get to town in time to take the up train in the evening. The negro missed his way and reached Mr. Hill after four hours of arduous wandering, announced his instructions and then discovered that he had lost the telegram. He could give Mr. Hill no information except that "the bank was burned up and everything in it." Mr. Hill, by a strange exercise of mercy, refrained from killing him on the spot, but getting on a good horse rode to town as rapidly as possible.

WHERE THEY ARE.

The Temporary Abiding Places of the Business Men Who Were Burned Out.

The railroad ticket offices before at Nos. 4 and 6 Pryor street have all removed to No. 28 Wall street, in the general railroad and steamship office, opposite the passenger depot. They are Messrs. THE FIRST BALE OF COTTON.

Special to The Constitution.

BLAKELY, August 13.—Mr. A. B. Windham, the "boss" farmer of this county, brought in the first bale of new cotton Thursday evening received in this market. This is Mr. Windham's first year at farming in our county and from all accounts he has a model farm. The cotton was purchased by Smith & James at 12 cents per pound. Several other bales have been received since Thursday.

MARRIAGE.

Special to The Constitution.

THOMASTON, August 13.—It had been whispered around Saturday night that there would be a marriage in town, but no one seemed to know who the contracting parties were. Early Sunday morning white dresses and laces, ribbons, and flowers, and worn too by pretty ladies could be seen at Webb's hotel, and soon thereafter by the appearance of the minister, Rev. W. R. Foute, a marriage was partially announced. The attendants, with the exception of those who did not reach here in time, all marched into the parlor, and with a beautiful ceremony, Mr. George Nelson, much to the surprise of all present, was married to Miss Katie Manes. Mr. Nelson is from Talbot county, and is an enterprising young planter. Miss Katie is a niece of Mrs. Smith, of this place, and one of our sweetest and prettiest young ladies. They both are wished much joy by their many friends. Everything passed off pleasantly, not to mention one of the most amusing incidents to happen, as it did on such an occasion.

SUICIDE OF EDGAR B. WATTS.

The steamer Everingham, arrived this morning bringing the corpse of Edgar B. Watts, of Fort Gaines, who committed suicide in his state room last night. About twelve o'clock he had his trunk brought up from the baggage room, and taking a change of clothing therefrom and dressed himself. He was last seen alone sitting on the side of his berth, and this morning when the boot black went in for his shoes found him lying in the berth dead with a pistol grasped in his right hand and a bullet hole in the right temple. The officers on duty heard the report of the pistol but couldn't tell from whence it came, and thought nothing of it. He was addicted to drink and appeared to be getting over a spree. He leaves a widowed mother in Fort Gaines and a brother, Mr. Pleas Watts, of [illegible] leave for Fort Gaines with the remains to-night.

While handling a heavy flask at Golden Brothers' foundry this morning the crane broke, dropping the flask on Mr. A. W. Dudley, a moulder, and a negro helper, Paris Shorter. Dudley's hurt is painful but not serious, while the negro's leg was broken just above the ankle.

Jonesboro, Georgia.

BURIAL OF MRS. FERGERSON.

Special to the Constitution.

JONESBORO, August 13.—The funeral sermon of Mrs. D. P. Fergerson was preached by Rev. J. M. Bowden on last Saturday, at the residence of her husband, and was attended by a very large congregation. Her remains were buried on the premises to the left of the house near the public Fayetteville road. Mrs. Fergerson had drawn to her a large number of devoted friends, and was universally highly esteemed. Considerable sickness is prevailing through the county.

We don't like the bill of Mr. Jones of DeKalb, cutting Clayton county out of the Atlanta judicial circuit, and hope it will be withdrawn or defeated.

We have seven or eight felonies to try at our court next week, and as the defendants are all in jail, we hope Judge Hammond will try them the first week of court. All of these prisoners except one are pauper negroes unable to give bond.

NOT IN FAVOR OF COLORED CHURCHES.

Religious meetings are prevalent over the county, and some of them conducted by our colored citizens are almost a nuisance. We have almost come to the conclusion that the churches throughout the country made a great mistake in organizing exclusive churches for them, left entirely to their control and management. The great cardinal rule in divine service, "let everything be done decently and in order," is sadly neglected.

MUSCOGEE'S WEALTH.

As Shown by the Tax Returns—Total Valuation $9,834,499.

From the Columbus Sun.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. J. C. Reedy, our efficient tax receiver, and his assistant, Mr. Lloyd, completed the work of consolidating the tax returns of Muscogee county. The result of Mr. Reedy's labor is given below in tabular form, and shows that he has performed the duties of his office faithfully and efficiently. The figures show an increase over last year of $629,445, and over 1881 of $1,225,780, most of which is in the city. The increase must be gratifying to every citizen, as it shows that Muscogee is making rapid progress in the accumulation of wealth.

There is a considerable falling off in the amount of wild land returned. This is due to the change in the law, which requires all wild lands to be returned in the county in which they lie.

The colored people of our county are as intelligent and industrious as are to be found in the south. Since the war some of them have worked hard, and by living economically have managed to accumulate property. The returns show that they now own in the county $188,510, an increase over last year of $24,170.

The number of hands employed in the county, field hands principally, is 1,217; amount of tax on professions, $610, and the amount of tax on polls, $2,366. The amount of capital invested in mining is $40,000. The increase in the city over last year is $567,761.

Campbellton Forty Years Ago.

From the Campbell county Newsletter.

I arrived at the above named village on the 18th day of November, 1843, to live there. That day I was 22 years and 11 months old. There were in Campbellton then about 175 inhabitants, white and colored. I was a total stranger to all except William Austin. The court-house that yet stands on the hill, was in a good fix then, and, with a very good jail that was burned in 1857, constituted the public buildings of the place. There was one Baptist church, which was blown down in 1848. The old academy that still stands on the hill was then a very good, comfortable house. There were three dry goods stores, two groceries, one blacksmith shop, one cabinet shop, one tailor shop and two hotels. Dr. John A. Hopkins was clerk of the superior court, Reuben C. Beavers was clerk of the court of ordinary and clerk of the inferior court, and Thomas Bullard was sheriff. Mrs. Sarah M. Brown kept one of the hotels. That house has been torn down and removed from the place. Robert O. Beaver kept the other hotel where Mrs. Searcy now lives. Alfred Austell and James M. Cantrel were partners in merchandising; the house they occupied has been moved away. Middleton Thornton was a merchant; his house has also been moved away. William Austin was merchandizing on the corner where James M. Aderhold now has a grocery. The citizens of the place I soon formed the acquaintance of, and especially Colonel Thomas A. Latham and Rufus Chandler, the two attorneys of the place, as I had located there to practice law. I found all to be clever, kind and sociable people.

I was a young man then, and soon formed the acquaintance of many pretty young ladies of the village. I think I can truthfully say I saw a room with as many handsome young ladies in it, according to the number present, at a ball at Campbellton during the Christmas holidays in December, 1443, as I ever saw at any place. I yet remember nearly all of their names. Four of them are now widows and grand mothers—Mrs. Sarah J. Cochran, Mrs. Mary Whitley, Mrs. Elizabeth S. Glover and Mrs. Elizabeth McLarin. There are only four white persons living who lived in the limits of Campbellton then, besides myself—R. C. Beavers, his wife, Mrs. Jane Beavers, Mrs. Adaline Thornton and William Austin. John F. Beavers is the only one living there now who lived there then.

I shall, in some future pieces, say something of the judges of the court, members of the bar, practice of law, etc.

ROBERT J. TUGGLE.

An Unusual Occurrence.

From the Sylvania Telephone.

We are informed that some young men went out deer hunting in the vicinity of Scarboro not long since, and jumped an old doe and two fawns. After chasing them a short while the dogs caught one of the fawns near a field in which Mr. William Deason was at work, who, hearing the bleating of the fawn, ran down into the swamp from whence the noise came. When very near to the scene he observed the old doe attacking the dogs by running up near them, leaping into the air and coming down upon them with her sharp hoofs, stamping them most violently, by which means she succeeded in putting them all to flight, and then taking the two fawns in charge, the three galloped leisurely away, without being further molested by the pack.

The Runt of the Family.

From the Americus Republican.

Ben Wheeler says, he and Berry Lingo once went to Augusta together and while sitting in front of the Globe, were approached by a neatly dressed, dyspeptic looking gentleman who asked: "Where are you from gentlemen?" "Southwest Georgia," replied Ben. "What, from that sickly section? I've got a son down there, and I'm afraid he'll die, if he stays there, so I am going to make him come home. People all sickly and die soon don't they?" Ben, who weighs about 210 pounds, replied: My mother had nine children and I'm the runt of the family; never was sick in my life." The Augusta man got up looked over Ben and Berry, heaved a sigh that sounded like the wail of a lost hope and turning on his heel vanished.

A Literary Curiosity.

From the Montezuma Record.

Our Marshallville correspondent sent us a curiosity in the shape of an old letter which was received from her music teacher, and dated at Hamilton, New York, September, 1842. It was written before envelopes and stamps were in use, and the entire four pages of a large letter sheet, except the fold on the address side, is filled with a closely written letter, which, if set up in type would fill four columns of the Record. The chirography is very [illegible]

Wrightsville Recorder: Speaking of fine shots, W. J. Hicks shot with a double-barreled gun, five paces, into a bunch of about twelve partridges without killing a bird. But he broke the wing of one.

Americus Recorder: On the plantation of Mr. W. A. Clements, Thursday night of last week, a negro woman accidentally, it is supposed, smothered her two-year-old infant to death during the night. It was buried Friday.

Colonel William Henry Moore stood in front of the Markham house on Sunday morning, viewing the progress of the Kimball house fire. Every new development he would greet with the exclamation, "Well, well!"

Mr. John I. Parker, of Thomas county, says that the caterpillers are fast going through his cotton crop. The bottom crop, he says, has not been hurt, and the middle crop is not seriously damaged. The top crop is well nigh ruined wherever they have struck the crop.

In Campbell county Mr. John Hearn's little baby girl was accidentally scalded almost to death, on Thursday night, by a negro boy overturning a pot of boiling coffee on it. The child is scalded all over from its shoulders down, and is suffering intense agony. The scalding was accidental.

On Tuesday evening, the 7th inst., Captain C. W. Felder, of Americus, received the first bale of new cotton from Lee county. It was from the plantation of Mrs. G. W. Barrows classed as good middling, weighed 381 pounds, and was shipped to J. S. Woods & Bro., of Savannah, with instructions to sell for 15 cents per pound.

Americus Republican: Wright Brady has come to the front with a fourteen months calf that gives milk. He thinks he has the coming cow that will produce milk enough to float a gunboat, and he intends that she shall be the prize cow of the state. Half a dozen men, who have seen the calf milked, think there is a mystery about it, but acknowledge it is pure, unadulterated sweet milk.

Rome Courier: At the farm of Mr. Alec White, in Vann's valley, Wednesday a difficulty occurred between two negroes, H. West and A. Bonner, in which the latter received four severe cuts from a knife in the hands of his antagonist. Dr. Dozier sewed up the wounds, making twenty-three stitches to do the job. Though very painful, the wounds will not prove fatal.

The Augusta News says that it is rumored in Waynesboro that John Mack, a notorious and corrupt negro politician of Burke county, has received the appointment of postmaster at Waynesboro, vice T. S. Blanchard, bounced. The news will be received by the citizens with mingled feelings of indignation and disgust, by whom it is regarded as but another effort of a vicious administration to degrade and mortify the feelings of southern whites.

Athens Banner: On Mrs Robertson's place in the Green Hill district, in Stewart county, on Thursday of last week, a difficulty occurred between Wiley Bannell and Ezell Benton, during which the former dealt his antagonist a severe blow on the head with a hoe, driving the blade through the skull, causing his brains to ooze out. The victim lingered until Tuesday, when he expired. They were both young, stout negroes, and considered good hands. Wiley made his escape and has not been heard from since.

Campbell County News: Uncle Johnny Boyd last year picked from a one acre lot in Fairburn 634 pounds of lint cotton. He then sowed the land in oats, and this spring reaped forty-five bushels. After cutting off his oats he planted cotton again on the 12th of June, and it is now in bloom. With favorable weather he will make three hundred or more pounds of lint. Mr. Boyd is over seventy years old, does all his work himself, and his little four acre farm in town is a good model for more pretentious agriculturists to pattern after—if you'll allow the expression. He successfully raises two crops a year and makes more money than many farmers with ten times the amount of land. Mr. Boyd's farming should put younger men to the blush.

Mr. J. Berrien Moore, of Waycross, met with a serious accident last week. Whilst in the woods near Brunswick looking after some hands, the mule for the first time saw the umbrella which Mr. M. was holding above him. Taking fright at this, he dashed away, throwing Mr. Moore from the buggy and injuring one of his legs very much. Hearing of the accident, Dr. Blain, his brother-in-law, went at once for him and brought him to Brunswick for treatment. All efforts, however, to restore the limb to its normal condition proved futile, and on Thursdry last Dr. Blain, assisted by Drs. Burford, Hazlehurst and Davis, amputated the leg just above the knee. During the night his symptoms grew worse, and at 5 o'clock yesterday morning his spirit passed away.

LaGrange Reporter: The lightning performed some remarkable freaks in this city during the storm of Thursday afternoon last. A deafening peal proclaimed to the whole town the fact of an electrical casualty somewhere in the vicinity. It turned out that it had struck the tenement occupied by Lucy Shaw, colored. The mother was absent at the time, and a more thoroughly frightened brood of children never crouched in terror. Descending the chimney and scattering the soot over the juvenile darkies, the bolt went out at the gable end, taking with it that part of the house, scorching clothing, setting the bed on fire, and knocking some of the timbers a considerable distance into the yard. Happily and miraculously, no injury beyond a thorough shaking up was inflicted. The place was visited by quite a number of citizens when the news had been noised abroad.

Of Frank W. Smith, the Andersonville flag man, the Sumter Republican says: Mr. Frank W. Smith, of Toledo, Ohio, is in the city on a mission of respect to the memory of those who "sleep the sleep that knows no waking" at Andersonville of the federal army. He, we learn, was once a prisoner at that place. He, of course, should have a tender sympathy for those who suffered with him there, and who died there. We can respect this sympathy for there was suffering of southern men in northern prisons. The war is ended, peace brings its blessings to the survivors, and the dead of both sides, should be sacred to the whole union. On Wednesday next Mr. Smith will decorate the fourteen thousand graves at Andersonville with federal flags. We suppose there are many people in Americus who would like to be present on the occasion, and an effort will be made to get transportation over the railroad to carry all who wish to go. Speeches, etc., will be made, and a sermon, we believe, will be delivered. Notice will be given in one of the churches of this city, and a programme made out for the occasion.

Sumter Republican: An old negro man was plowing in a field belonging to Captain O. A. Crittenden, near Ward's station, one hot day recently, when he gave a yell of mortal agony that awoke the people who were in hearing for a mile around. As the shouting and yelling continued, white and black people hurried out into the hot sunshine to see what ailed him. A worthy Hibernian was one of the first to reach the nigger, who was yelling, "The grace of God!" all the time jumping up and down as if covered with hornets. The Irishman turned to the others, saying: "He sthruk wid sun stroke, be Jasus; sind for the dhoctor; be aisy and quick!" and turning to the darkey tried to get him in the shade, saying: "Come now, 'Lisha, and be after keeping cool for a little." Three or four negroes were employed in bringing water in buckets with which he was doused, but still the prancing and shouting continued. Mrs. Crittenden reached them and the darkey yelled: "The Grace of God, Miss Julia," and she said, "He's got religion." The negro said, "Yes," and the disgusted Irishman turned away muttering: "The damd fool for hollowing like the divil was holt of him, and fooling a gossoon a half mile in this hot sun! Aught to be kilt, inthirely."

CHARLESTON'S CENTENNIAL.

The Hundredth Anniversary of the Incorporation of Charleston, S. C., Appropriately Celebrated.

CHARLESTON, S. C., August 13.—The celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the incorporation of Charleston, this old city by the sea, took place to-day with fitting ceremonies. Among the exercises, and one of the leading features, was the following beautiful ode prepared by the now famous poet, Carolina's by birth, but now Georgia's by adoption and citizenship, Paul H. Hayne:

POEM

Upon the one hundredth anniversary of the incorporation of the city of Charleston, S. C., by Paul H. Hayne:

I.

Pallid, yet proud she stood that day, half sad, half joyous-hearted,
As one who hears far off the roll of thunder-clouds departed;—
The war-bolt on her brow had left scarred furrows, hot and gory;—
But lo! her calm exultant smile!—her dark eyes flushed with glory!

II.

She saw the hands of heroes weave her crown of civic honors—
She felt the hands of patriots place that priceless crown upon her,
And all her veins were filled with fire of strong and sweet emotion—
Ah! best beloved of loyal souls! * * * ah! stainless Maid of ocean!

III.

Since then, an hundred years have told their story harsh, or tender—
Our Maid hath ripened to a Queen on hights of loftier splendor;
Hights held through steel, and fire, and blood, till all men hailed with wonder
This new Athene, throned above the bolt, the flame, the thunder!

IV.

Three wars have raged about her home, and writhed their waves of slaughter—
But still serene in thought, as mien, our Jove's unconquered daughter;
Each dark death-mound hath formed a round [illegible] on her will was planted;—
And [illegible] the mountain-wall of fame her firm feet rose enchanted!

V.

And what if Power too strong to foil, with all her sheer endeavor,
Once hurled her from her "vantage coign" and seemed to hurl forever;—
She nerved her torn and baffled limbs, and in her heart upyearning,
God kept the crystal Lamp of Faith divinely bright and burning!

VI.

Though ruffian buffets smote her cheek, and hell was round her ringing,
Above a hymn of rescue seemed to pour its prescient singing:
She saw beyond the hail of hate, the rage, and bitter scorning,
A rose-bud Hope, whose petals fold the perfect Rose of Morning!

VII.

Then rushed a Hero to her side!—one of earth's stateliest scions—
His aim an eagle's aim, his heart a bold Numidian lion's;
He pealed a bugle note so loud it shook the seaborn fountains,
And sowed its fruitful echoes far, 'mid the deep-clefted mountains!

VIII.

We know the issue! . . . all unsmirched, with passionate gratulation,
She rose, she towered! . . . for who could touch her soul with degradation.
The cruel fire that singed her robe died out in rainbow flashes,
And bright her silvery sandals shone above the hissing ashes;—

IX.

But now the times of blood are passed! . . . put by the vision dreary!
Away with hate and scorn and strife! . . . hush, hush your miserere!
Your sea-winds blow their clarions clear across the restless spaces,
And every sea-wave hurls a hint of action in your faces!

X.

Away! away, both night and day, with thoughts by grief o'er freighted;—
Have ye not borne and toiled and bled? have ye not prayed and waited?
A golden day has dawned at last! a morn of cloudless vision;
Up gallant Hearts! and crown the dream with full and fair fruition!

XI.

Up gallant Hearts! your Leader's here!—no guide that guideth blindly—
(Methinks our Lady's softening eyes rest on him sweetly, kindly)—
Your civic chief so firmly wed to harsh and rugged Duty,
I vow his kiss hath almost flushed her homely face to beauty!

XIII.

Your civic chief is here to lead! . . . who, who will blithely follow?
Be sure ye shall not find the path beneath your footsteps hollow;—
This man, I deem, would gladly fall in Labor's armor breathless,—
If deeds, or death of his could make his city's glory deathless!

* * * * * * * *

XIII.

O, City of my Fathers' love! beside whose streamlets straying,
My boyish feet, to jocund tunes, have gone so oft "a-Maying!"—
O, City of ancestral graves!—each clod a sacred treasure,—
What marvel that one mournful chord wails through this dying measure?

XIV.

The sea songs come, the sea songs go across thine ocean reaches,
The sea tides ebb, the sea tides flow far up thy glittering beaches;
Not mine to draw a new born hope from waves so brightly glowing,
Not mine to hear in deepening winds a trump of onset blowing!

XV.

Ah no! ah no! . . . across the flow, half welcome, half appalling,
I catch the voices of the dead from twilight verges calling;
The shadows grow more gray that shroud this strange, outworn existence;
And still those yearning voices call from out the sea bound distance!

XVI.

Quaint City of my youth, farewell! no more these eyes may quiver,
Dazed by the glint of surf and sail on flickering bar of river,
No more these weary limbs may own the soul's imperious order,
To bear me where the sun-caps flash beyond thy billowy border!

XVII.

Brave city of my youth, farewell! . . . When safe from midday riot
Kissed by the slumberous star that sways her lotus land of quiet,
I still shall see thro' half-closed lids thy moonlight beauty beaming,
And hear St. Michael's mellowed bells swoon down the tides of dreaming!

Vital Statistics.

It is shown by the report of Health Boards, and other authorized bodies, that diseases of the kidneys and bladder are largely on the increase; a sad fact, due perhaps to the foolish habit of drinking lager beer and other liquors, without knowing what they are made of. Is there a remedy? Decidedly yes. First, stop drinking. Second, use Hunt's Remedy—a potent and unfailing specific for kidney, bladder, liver, and urinary complaints. Hunt's Remedy, the great kidney and liver medicine, is indorsed by prominent physicians.

"REX MAGNUS."

(THE MIGHTY KING.)

THE HUMISTON FOOD PRESERVATIVE.

Perfect, Sure, Safe, Healthful.

It is composed of pure and harmless ingredients, is sure in its action, preserving meats and all kinds of food in their fresh state without fail, is safe in use, containing nothing that can injure the most delicate constitution, and even promotes health, as all articles treated with it are preserved absolutely fresh, and the risk of eating stale or partially decayed food is avoided.

Cream Fifty-nine Days Old.

Cream is the most delicate and perishable of all animal foods, but a quantity which was treated in Boston with REX MAGNUS was eaten in Switzerland fifty-nine days after and proved to be sweet, pure and wholesome, and perfectly fresh.

Prof. Samuel W. Johnson, of Yale College, tested REX MAGNUS by exposing twenty-three different kinds of meats and other foods, which had been treated with the proper brands, for Thirty-five Days at a Temperature of 70° and says in his report: "The preparations of REX MAGNUS have accomplished all claimed for them. So far as I have learned they are the only preparations that are effective and at the same time practicable for domestic use. I consider them no less wholesome than common salt.

Try It and be Convinced.

If your druggist or grocer does not keep REX MAGNUS we will send you sample packages sent prepaid by mail or express as we prefer. Name your express office. "Viandine" for preserving meats, fish, etc., 50c. per lb.; "Ocean Wave" for oysters, lobsters, etc., 50c.; "Pearl" for cream, $1; "Snow Flake" for milk butter, &c., 50c.; "Queen" for eggs, $1; "Aqua-Vitæ" for fluid extracts, $1; "Anti-Ferment," "Anti-Fly," and "Anti-Mold," 50c. per lb. each. Put up in 1 lb. and 5 lb. cans, and in 25 lb. boxes. It never fails. Mention this paper.

Swift's Specific has been the means of bringing health and happiness to thousands who were pronounced incurable of Blood and Skin Diseases.

HEAR THE WITNESSES.

Saved from a Horrible Death.

Up to May last I had spent at least five hundred dollars for treatment by many of the best medical men, without any benefit. I suffered excruciatingly, and all my best friends advised me that the icy hand of death was fast approaching. I caught at S. S. S. like a drowning man at a straw. After taking two bottles I could feel a change for the better. The sores began to discharge freely and the Rheumatism to abate. When I had taken six bottles every sore had healed and my skin began to assume a natural appearance. I persisted until I had taken twelve bottles, large size, and THERE IS NOT A SYMPTOM OF THE DISEASE REMAINING, and I feel as well as I ever did. I have gained twenty-one pounds in flesh, and my friends wonder at my improved condition. I have recommended it to many, and in every instance with complete success. I BELIEVE THAT S. S. S. HAS SAVED ME FROM A HORRIBLE DEATH. C. H. SMILEY, Quincy, Ill.

I am sure that Swift's Specific saved my life. I was terribly poisoned with Malaria, and was given up to die. Swift's Specific relieved me promptly and entirely. I think it is the greatest remedy of the age. C. G. SPENCER, Supt. Gas Works, Rome, Ga.

THE LEGISLATURE.

BUSINESS RECORD OF BOTH HOUSES OF THE ASSEMBLY.

The Proceedings in the Senate—The Doings in the House—The Introduction of New Matter and the Passage of Bills on a Third Reading—The Reports of Committees—Points.

The senate met at 10 o'clock and was called to order by President Boynton. Prayer by Rev. M. B. Wharton.

Roll called and journal read and approved. Senators Norman and Baker were granted leave of absence for a short while.

On motion of Senator McDonald the action of the senate, on Friday, in refusing to pass a bill to establish a branch college of the State university at Waycross was reconsidered.

A motion to reconsider the action of the senate in agreeing to the adverse report of the committee on the Ray fertilizer bill of the house was tabled.

By Mr. Tatum—A joint resolution preventing the introduction of any new bills in either house after Wednesday the 15th inst., without unanimous consent. Agreed to and transmitted at once.

On the call of the roll for new matter, the following bills were introduced:

By Mr. Rouse—A bill to alter and amend section 3694 of the code in reference to certain fees of the ordinaries of this state.

By Mr. Tutt—A bill to allow land holders, whose lands are intersected by turnpike or toll rolls, and who have no other means of ingress or egress, to pass over the same free of charge. Referred to judiciary committee.

By Mr. Polhill—A bill to change the time of holding election of ordinaries in the several counties of the state. Referred to judiciary committee.

On motion bills of the third reading were called, and read as follows:

By Mr. Peeples—A bill to provide for the payment of advertising or posting notices required of the several ordinaries of the state by section 1455 of the code. Passed without objection.

A message was received from the house announcing the passage of certain bills.

By Mr. Bush, of special committee—A bill to amend section 1235 of the code so far as relates to the manner of receiving pupils to the institute for the deaf and dumb. Recommended by committee on education for passage by substitute. Agreed to, and the bill passed.

By Mr. Bush, of special committee—A bill to amend section 1215 of the code so far as relates to the manner of receiving pupils in the institute for the blind. Passed by substitute as recommended by committee on education.

By Mr. Hoyt—A resolution authorizing the governor to lend the Georgia Land and Mineral company certain maps and minerals, or a guarantee of a safe return at such a time as the governor may require. Tabled temporarily.

A house bill to enable sureties on bonds of county officers to limit their responsibilities. Made a special order for Wednesday next.

Several house bills were read the first time and committed.

Hons. T. J. Stapleton, D. B. Harold, Philip Cook, W. L. Matthews, E. D Graham and T. W. Milner were granted the privileges of the floor of the senate.

A house bill to change the time of holding the superior court of Laurens county was read the third time and passed without objection.

Mr. Gustin was granted leave to introduce a bill to authorize the appointing of guardians ad litem in certain cases, and for other purposes. Referred to committee on judiciary.

On motion, the senate adjourned until ten o'clock to-morrow morning.

THE HOUSE.

The house met at 10 o'clock and was called to order by the speaker. Prayer by the chaplain. The journal was read and approved. On motion of Mr. Russell, of Clarke, the roll call was suspended.

The speaker announced that the senate was without business, and suggested that an afternoon session be held to consider local bills.

After various suggestions Mr. Hulsey, of Fulton, moved that the house hold afternoon sessions every day. Mr. Harris, of Bibb, moved to amend by declaring that at afternoon sessions only local bills favorably reported should be considered. The resolution as amended was agreed to. The call of the roll of the counties for the introduction of new matter was had. The following bills were introduced, read the first time, and appropriately referred:

Mr. Mason of Johnson—To incorporate the town of Wrightsville.

Mr. Key of Jasper—A bill to regulate the compensation of the sheriff of Jasper county.

Also, a bill to provide for elections for the abolition of county courts.

Mr. Sinquefield of Jefferson—A bill to regulate licenses in Louisville.

Mr. Johnson of Lee—A resolution to investigate the manner in which the $8,000 a year given to the Atlanta university is spent.

Mr. Beck of Lumpkin—A bill to regulate the sale of whisky in the 837th district G. M. in Lumpkin county.

Mr. DuPree of Macon—A bill to amend section 2611 of the code.

Mr. Head of Monroe—A bill to amend an act regulating the running of stock in Monroe county.

Mr. McRae of Montgomery—To fix liquor license in that part of McVille in said county.

Mr. Little of Muscogee—A bill appropriating $100 each to the secretary of the senate and the clerk of the house for contingent expenses.

By request a bill to make Stern's calendar evidence in courts of this state.

Also, a resolution authorizing the governor to purchase 500 copies of the published acts of this session.

Also, a bill to amend the act authorizing the appointment of state depositories.

Also, a bill to incorporate the Planters' Loan and Trust company of Columbus.

Mr. Sweat of Clinch—A bill to amend the school laws so far as they relate to Pierce county.

Mr. Redding of Pike—A bill to pay $100 to S. D. Irwin for legal services to the state.

Also, a resolution looking to the purchase of a portrait of Hiram Warner.

A bill to provide for a system of municipal insurance.

Mr. Reese, of Wilkes, moved to suspend the rules to take up the senate resolution that no new matter shall be introduced after the 15th. On the call of the yeas and nays the house refused to suspend the rules. Mr. Reese had offered a resolution cutting off new matter after the 17th, which lay on the table under the rule.

Mr. Wilson of Sumter—A bill to appropriate $500 more to printing fund of the railroad commissioners.

Also, a bill to amend act creating state board of pharmaceutical examiners.

Mr. Eason of Telfair—A bill to provide for registration of voters in Appling county.

Also, a bill to make guardians of insane persons plaintiffs in divorce suits.

Also, a bill to establish a branch state college at McVille.

Mr. Burch of Towns—A bill to prohibit driving of cattle from other states into this state for the purpose of grazing.

Mr. Crenshaw of Troup—To pay O. H. Roberts money for artificial arm.

Also, a bill to provide and regulate appropriation for the agricultural department.

Also, to amend section 3533 in relation to the manner of obtaining garnishments.

Mr. Jones of Twiggs—A bill to abolish office of county treasurer of Twiggs county.

Mr. Flint of Monroe, by request—A bill to protect farming interest in Upson county by making owners of animals liable for damage done by them in said county.

Mr. Wood of Appling—A resolution to deposit the sword voted by the state to Colonel Daniel Appling in the archives of the Georgia historical society for safekeeping.

Mr. Lott of Ware—A bill to authorize levy special tax for the purpose of boring an artesian well in Waycross.

Also, a bill to consolidate all acts incorporating Waycross.

Mr. Wright of Washington—A bill to regulate liquor traffic in the 155th district of Warren county.

Also, a bill to require registration of voters in this state.

Also, a bill to provide for pay of supervisors of elections.

Mr. Kimsey of White—A bill to require any member of any partnership to reveal names and interest of partners.

Mr. Broyles of Whitfield—A bill to provide for the killing of live stock so injured by railroads as to be useless.

Also, a bill to submit question of liquor traffic to voters of Whitfield county.

The house adjourned to 3 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The house met at 3 o'clock. The regular order was consideration of local and special bills which had been favorably reported. The following were considered.

A bill incorporating the town of Temple, Carroll county. Passed.

A bill to amend an act incorporating the National mercantile company of Atlanta. Passed.

A bill prohibiting sale of liquor in Grantville. Passed.

A bill creating a board of commissioners of roads and revenues for Macon county. Passed.

Mr. Hulsey, chairman of the special judiciary committee, submitted a report.

A bill incorporating the town of Ty Ty in Worth county. Passed.

A bill abolishing Monroe county court. Passed.

A bill to incorporate the Georgia Real and Personal Estate company of Albany was tabled.

A bill to allow E. B Ketchenside, a medical student of Dade county, to practice medicine without conforming to the requirements of the general state law, was lost.

A bill amending the charter of Griffin so as to provide for a system of public schools. Passed.

A bill to amend the charter of Cuthbert. Passed.

The house adjourned to Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

The capitol bill is the special order for today.

The house will have afternoon sessions hereafter to consider local and special bills favorably reported.

The roll of the house must be called every morning according to a resolution passed last week.

Several of the committees had sessions yesterday afternoon in spite of the session of the house.

Senator Pike is back, and his return is welcomed by the whole senate. He has many friends in the body and his services are always in demand.

The committees did not, as a generel thing meet yesterday evening, the members disturbed by the fire being busy hunting new quarters.

Mr. McClelland, chaplain of the house, made a beautiful allusion to the sickness of Speaker Garrard's son yesterday, and prayed that he might be restored to health.

The adverse action of the senate on Senator McDonald's Waycross bill was yesterday reconsidered, and the prospects are now that the bill will pass. The senator has certainly labored zealously for it.

The state is to lose for the present the services of one of its most gifted and zealous supporters, in the decision of Senator Fleming DuBignon to retire from the political area, and devote his time to the practice of his profession. He removes in the fall from Milledgeville to Savannah where he will continue his practice. His services for Baldwin county in the house for so long a time, and his able representation of the twentieth district in the senate, have, by the marked ability displayed by Mr. DuBignon, placed him conspicuously before the people of the state and given him the plaudits of her whole people. His loss to the people of his present district will be sorely felt, and his removal to Savannah gives that city a gentleman whose ability at the bar and whose social qualities and personal magnetism guarantee him success wherever he may be.

Piles.

Piles are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, as flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, particularly at night after getting warm in bed, is a very common attendant. Blind, Bleeding and Itching Piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the Tumors, allaying the intense itching, and effecting a permanent cure where all other remedies have failed. Do not delay until the drain on the system produces permanent disability, but try it and be cured. Price, 50 cents. March 6, 1883.

FULTON COUNTY SHERIFF'S SALES FOR September, 1883. Will be sold before the court-house door in the city of Atlanta, Fulton county, Georgia, on the first Tuesday in September next, within the legal hours of sale, the following property to-wit:

All the interest of defendants, Longley & Robinson, a firm composed of B. F. Longley and Isaac Robinson—in and to a lot or parcel of land, lying and being in the fourth ward of the city of Atlanta, in land lot No 52 of the fourteenth district of Fulton county, Ga., commencing at a point on Butler street, two hundred feet north from the corner of Butler and Decatur street, thence running northwardly along the east side of Butler street, one hundred feet to what is known as Longley & Robinson's lot, thence eastwardly two hundred feet, thence southwardly one hundred feet, thence westwardly two hundred feet, to the beginning point on Butler street, the interest of said defendants being a bond for titles, to said described premises, with two-thirds of the purchase money paid. Levied on as the property of Longley & Robinson, to satisfy a fi. fa., issued from Fulton Superior court, in favor of Mary K. Watson vs. Longley & Robinson.

Also, at the same time and place, the following described parcel of land, situated on Mitchell street in the city of Atlanta, Fulton county, Georgia, and known as No. 281 Mitchell street, fronting forty five feet on Mitchell street, and running back north one hundred and twenty feet, more or less; adjoining the property of William Rushing and Mitchell street colored school. Levied on as the property of William Mitchell to satisfy a fi. fa., issued from the 1026 district, G. M., Fulton county, in favor of G. G. Roy vs. William Mitchell.

Also at the same time and place, the following described property, to-wit: That tract or parcel of land situated in the third ward of the city of Atlanta, Fulton county, Georgia, on the corner of Fair and Grant streets, running back to Hunter street, fronting sixty feet on Fair street, and running back along Grant street one hundred and fifty feet to Hunter street. Levied on as the property of Mrs. Loretta Arnold, to satisfy a fi. fa. issued from the 1026 district, G. M., Fulton county, Georgia, in favor of W. A. Wilkins, vs. Mrs. A. I. Small and Mrs. L. Arnold.

Also, at the same time and place, a city lot in the city of Atlanta, Ga., situated on the corner of Magazine and Lowe streets, fronting (50) fifty feet on Magazine and one hundred feet on Lowe street, adjoining T. J. Lowe on the north and east. The same being part of land lot No. 83, in the 14th district of originally Henry, now Fulton county, Ga. Levied on as the property of T. J. Lowe to satisfy a fi fa issued from Fulton superior court in favor of W. E. Coleman and George B. McGaughen, surviving partners etc., vs. M. P. Camp and John S. Lowe, principals, and J. M. Lowe, George W. Lowe and T. J. Lowe, securities.

Also, at the same time and place, that tract or parcel of land, situated in the first ward of the city of Atlanta, Fulton county, Georgia, on Mechanic street, and known as No. 11 Mitchell, street adjoining the property of Jacob Weaver's estate and Mrs. H. C. Hathaway, containing one half acre, more or less. Levied on as the property of Miss Mary Pettis by virtue of and to satisfy a fi. fa., issued from the Justice court of the 1026 district, G. M., Fulton county, in favor of Mrs. F. Schmeltzer vs. Miss Mary Pettis.

Also at the same time and place, an undivided half interest in and to a city lot in the city of Atlanta, known as part of city lot No. 108, on Collins street, containing one-fourth of an acre, more or less, having a front of forty-five feet on said street, and a depth of two hundred and ten feet: the same being on the West side of Collins street, and between Baker and Harris streets, and being the lot conveyed by Patrick Fitzgibbon to Frederick Kinley and John Kinley, on the 4th September, 1875, as the property of the defendant, Pointed out by plaintiff's attorney and notified the tenant in possession. Levied on as the property of Mrs. Julia Kinley, to satisfy a fi. fa. from the 1234 district, G. M., Fulton county, in favor of O. C. Carroll, vs Mrs. Julia Kinley.

Also, at the same time and place, a certain lot of land and the improvements thereon, to-wit: Forty by one hundred feet, on the corner of Newman and Cain streets in the city of Atlanta, fronting forty feet on Newman street and one hundred feet on Cain street, in the 14th district of originally Henry, now Fulton county, Georgia, and in land lot No. 51, on which property Nellie Adkins now resides: levied on as the property of William Adkins to satisfy the within attachment fi fa. for purchase money, issued from the 1026 district, G. M., Fulton county, in favor of W. H. Venable vs Wm. Adkins. Deed filed in clerk's office.

Also at the same time and place, a lot on North Avenue and Williams street, in the 5th ward of Atlanta, adjoining the property of Jerry Morris, part of land lot No. 79, 14th district of Fulton county, Ga., containing 50x100 feet, more or less. Levied on as the property of John L Maddox to satisfy a fi fa for state and county tax for the year 1880 against J. L. and C. K. Maddox.
A. M. PERKERSON, Sheriff.

THE presence of two military companies is all that saved three Danville, Virginia, murderers from swift judgment. Two hundred and fifty men were in the attacking party.

THE friends of the Central railroad have secured a controlling interest of the Augusta and Knoxville, having purchased five hundred thousand of the six hundred and thirty thousand dollars of bonds, and sixty-five thousand of the one hundred and twenty-five thousand of the stock. Eighty-five was the price paid for the bonds. The company will issue seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars of new six per cent bonds, take up the old sevens, and pay fifty-five thousand outstanding coupons. The remaining sixty-five thousand will be used to improve the road. The syndicate purchased the stock of the road held by the city of Augusta. The new arrangement is regarded as good for Augusta and surrounding section. The syndicate has been quietly buying up stock and bonds for some time.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE.

If the fire of Sunday morning had been lighted in the basement of the capitol building, instead of the basement of the Kimball house, the state would have lost through the improper protection of her public treasury and archives, money and papers that millions of dollars could not replace.

The members of the house who will be called upon to vote for an appropriation which the state is amply able to make for the new capitol building that would give ample protection to the state's money and papers which the present building does not afford and cannot be made to afford, will do well to reflect upon this point before casting their votes.

THE FUTURE OF MELON-GROWING.

The results of the shipments of watermellons from Georgia to western, northern and eastern markets have been decidedly satisfactory, taking into consideration the many obstacles and drawbacks that both shippers and commission merchants have been compelled to overcome. In the first place, the facilities of the railroads were scarcely equal to the extraordinary demand made upon them. They did the best they could, and this "best" is entitled to all the praise that THE CONSTITUTION has given it. It was the "best" of men of energy and enterprise. There was no lack of transportation, but the character of it can be vastly improved upon, as the railroad managers have no doubt discovered.

The season has been in the nature of a training to watermelon growers, and hereafter they will know exactly how to handle their products so as to get the most out of them. Many shippers in the early part of the season injured themselves and their neighbors by forwarding unripe fruit to market in order to take advantage of the high prices. Nothing could be more foolish than this, for if the watermelon traffic is to be established on a basis of permanency, fair dealing all around is an absolute necessity. But whatever mistakes have been made can easily be remedied, and in view of all the circumstances the growers are to be congratulated upon the prospect and possibilities based on actual experience.

But there is one fact that cannot be too often alluded to nor too strenuously insisted upon—namely, that the future of watermelon-growing in Georgia depends almost wholly upon the railroads. Now, the question is, shall the roads foster and encourage a traffic that keeps their rolling stock busy at a very dull season of the year, or will they crush out the new business by excessive freight charges—such charges, for instance, as have prevailed during the present season? It is easy to see that there is money in Georgia watermelons for growers as well as the railroads. This fact has been abundantly demonstrated during the present season.

It has also been abundantly demonstrated that the excessive rates which the roads have charged leaves little out of the average price to go to the grower. The rates upon a car load of melons to the western markets have ranged from $75 to $114, and the lowest figure is far too high. Such rates as these will kill the goose that lays the golden egg, even before the accommodating bird has been allowed to demonstrate her capacity. If these rates are to continue, it may be set down as a fact that the shipment of melons to the west will not be continued.

There is no reason why more than forty dollars a car should be charged for the transportation of melons. Even this rate could be reduced considerably to the ultimate profit of the roads. They could afford, indeed, in order to encourage truck-farming and melon-growing to haul at half rates, and they would be greatly the gainers by such a course.

We have no doubt the managers of the roads can be brought to see that their rates are too high. They are men of more than ordinary energy and business foresight, and they do not need to be told that they now have it in their power to build up a branch of agriculture in Georgia that will, in time, give them millions of dollars in freights and profits. Indeed, the roads should not only reduce their rates on melons, but they should improve their facilities. They should have properly ventilated cars, and instead of piling the melons on top of each other, they should be placed side by side in low compartments. This sort of handling would not only insure careful delivery to market, but would enhance the price and help everybody concerned. In matters of this kind, it is necessary only to give railroad managers a hint in order to engage their co-operation.

REBUILDING THE KIMBALL.

By the burning of the Kimball house Atlanta is called to meet a crisis, the gravity of which cannot be overestimated.

It is absolutely necessary that the hotel just destroyed be rebuilt promptly or a better hotel erected somewhere else in the city. This is a proposition that does not admit of discussion. Even with the Kimball open from top to bottom, our hotel accommodations were insufficient. Without the Kimball they are wholly and wretchedly inadequate. Twelve years ago when the Kimball was built it was ten years in advance of the city. Since the exposition it has had all it could handle and often more. This is the dullest season of the year—fully five hundred regular boarders are out of the city, and yet every hotel and boarding house in town is crowded. Every Atlantian, no matter how conservative, must admit that the prompt building of a hotel at least equal to the Kimball is fairly and squarely imperative.

As to how it shall be built, we do not know. Only three of the five owners of the old hotel are in the city, and until all of them are on the ground, no definite conclusion as to their intentions can be reached. It is possible, however, that they will not rebuild. If they do not, some one else must. As it will require $500,000 to buy the ground and put up such a house as we should have, there are few men here who will be able to undertake the work alone. In the event none is found, we must appeal to that hearty and irresistible spirit of co-operation with which Atlanta has always met and conquered difficulties, that would have been insurmountable to a divided or unsympathetic community.

It may be that it will be necessary to call on our people—the rich and the poor, the merchants and professionals—to combine and raise a capital of $500,000 and build a hotel that will be worthy of the city and meet the demands of the next ten years' growth. If it comes to this, we feel no doubt as to the result. The money will be raised and the work started promptly. When Atlanta makes up her mind that a thing must be done she goes to work and does it. Our people have never wavered in their duty, and they will not flicker now. We shall present day after day such developments as arise, and such suggestions as seem pertinent. When the time comes to act, and the duty of the hour becomes clear, the necessary subscriptions may be called for with perfect confidence.

A USELESS CONTROVERSY.

There is great trouble among the republican and democratic journals of the esteemed north, and the trouble seems to be growing larger. It seems that a Mr. Judge Birdsall, of Connecticut—and he might as well be Mr. Judge Anybodyelse, so far as any public knowledge of him goes—has recently made a statement to the effect that Mr. Tilden caused the defeat of Hancock in 1880. Mr. Judge Birdsall declares that Mr. Tilden gave Mr. Dana a check for an enormous sum, and that within two weeks of the election the Sun "infamously derided" General Hancock.

This matter was not "called" to Mr. Dana's "attention." He saw it himself with his own eyes; and as soon as he saw it, he replied to it. He very properly ignores Birdsall, but he informs the Hartford Courant that the files of the Sun are open to inspection, and that if anything of the kind can be found in its columns, five thousand dollars will be paid to the editor of the Courant. As a matter of course, nothing calculated to defeat Hancock is to be found in the Sun. It is true that Mr. Dana said: "The party has but one man of strength, who is Samuel J. Tilden. The party nominated General Hancock, a good man weighing two hundred and fifty pounds."

As a matter of course, such perfectly truthful statements as this could not contribute to any man's defeat. General Hancock was defeated because he lacked the votes, and he lacked the votes, in our opinion, because John Kelly had sold New York city to Arthur and Mr. Dana's pet "Colonel" George Bliss. It was true then, as it is true now, that Mr. Tilden's personal strength and popularity overtop those of any man who can be named, and it is certain that he could have been elected had he received the nomination.

But all this is over. Mr. Tilden was not nominated, and General Hancock was not elected. There is no profit in discussing these events. We doubt if anybody on sea or land cares much about it.

WHEN the cadets at West Point are made to thoroughly understand their position—namely, that they have elected to accept the charity of the government, and that they are simply charity students—the probability is that they will make better students and better soldiers.

CHARLESTON'S CENTENNIAL.

The centennial anniversary of the incorporation of the city of Charleston, was celebrated yesterday in that city. A salute of 100 guns was fired at sunrise and the city was decked with bunting. The civic ceremony took place in the afternoon in the presence of the governor and the leading state officials. Mayor Courtney delivered the centennial address and an ode written for the occasion, by Paul Hayne, was read and appears elsewhere. The marble bust of Robt, S. Haine, executed by Valentine, the Virginia sculptor, at the order of the city government was unveiled. Mayor Courtney presented to the city a marble bust, in classic style and of heroic size, of the late James L. Petigree. The bust was executed by Harrish in Rome, and is intended to mark the mayor's appreciation of the support and confidence of the citizens in his efforts to improve the condition of the city. To-night a grand display of fireworks brought together the largest popular gathering ever known in Charleston.

THERE is a beautiful clock with an interesting history in the white house. It is of alabaster, surmounted by a statuette of the muse of history, and it has ticked in the white house time out of mind, for it was a present from Bonaparte to Lafayette, who gave it in turn to Washington, who decreed that it should be handed down to his successors in the presidential office. And so, while the presidents come and go, the clock ticks on, and tells its tale of time to all alike impartially.

LORD LOUTH, whose death is just announced, resided for some time in New York, and made his visit remarkable by a contest in the barroom of the New York hotel with Mr. Tracy, of Buffalo. After thirty-five cocktails Mr. Tracy gave up, and Lord Louth drank a thirty-sixth. The late General Magruder acted as second to Mr. Tracy and the late General Rowan to Lord Louth. THE SPANISH RISING.

The Press Muzzled, and News Placed Under Censorship.

MADRID, August 13.—The Dias says that General Martinez Campos, minister of war, informed the cabinet that four rebel sergeants had been shot at Santo Domingo. The king will to-morrow review the Madrid garrison, numbering 12,000 men. His proposed visit to Germany has been indefinitely postponed. It is rumored that the ministry will change when the revolts have been entirely repressed. General La Cuesta has arrived at Leo De Urgel with loyal troops. Insurgent bands numbering 14 and 25 men respectively, have appeared at Tarragona and Barcelona.

A Seville newspaper states that several sergeants and corporals stationed there have been arrested. The latest official dispatch sent from Madrid says that telegrams from the Spanish provinces continue to be of a reassuring nature, and tend to show that the insurrection is almost ended. According to unofficial advices from Hendayer, France, several republican newspapers at Madrid have been suppressed and some civilians have been arrested. It is stated that Senor Castelar and his party continue to condemn the uprising.

LISBON, August 13.—A riotous outbreak occurred to day at the town of Chaves, Portugal, in connection with local grievances. A peasant was killed, and a colonel was wounded. Order has been restored.

The Times Madrid correspondent says that an order has been issued by the authorities forbidding the printing of any news touching insurrectionary movements in Spain, except what is officially supplied from the home office, and cautioning the editors of papers to abstain from comments on current events. The correspondent adds that the strictest censorship continues on telegrams.

The review of the Madrid garrison to-day passed off without any unusual incident. The troops cheered the king as they defiled past him. The king will shortly visit Barcelona, Sarogosse, Valencia and other towns, and will review the garrisons of those places. A colonel and ninety unarmed men have entered France at Port Vendres. It is supposed that they are fugitives from Seo De Urgel. At Elvas, Portugal, many fugitive soldiers and non-commissioned officers from Badajoz presented themselves to the Spanish consulate and asked pardon, stating that they had been deceived.

PARIS, August 13—The Temps says that a Spanish regiment has revolted in Catalonia, and that conflicts have taken place between the insurgents and loyal troops at Seo De Urgel, Gerona and Figueras.

LISBON, August 13.—The Portuguese police, at the request of the Spanish authorities, have arrested Senor Talvocchea, formerly a member of the Spanish chamber of deputies. The leaders of the revolt at Badajoz, who took refuge in Portugal, have been placed on board the Portuguese transport Africa and sent to Cherbourg, France.

IN THE ROCKIES.

The Presidential Party in Wyoming Territory—Events of the Journey.

CAMP VEST, on Spring creek, Wy. T., (via Fort Washakie,) August 12.—The day so far since leaving Camp Rollins at Bull Lake fork this morning, at 7 o'clock, has been very uneventful. The president and all members of the party are in excellent health and spirits. The country traveled over to-day has been mostly sagebrush, varied by the alternate ascending and descending of steep hills covered with loose stones, which made footing for the animals very bad. One cannot help wondering why so much material was wasted in making so many apparently useless ridges when there are plenty of gulches which could so well be filled. All along the route the glorious Wind river and Owl creek mountains, with snow clad peaks in sight, afford restfulness to the eye of the travelers who are pursuing their way across the dried and heated mesas below. The camp on Spring creek is delightful, on pleasant ground, with plenty of the essential requirements of good camping places, good water and grass. To the eastward of us is Crow Heart butte, which is a noted landmark of Wind river valley, and of it the photographer has obtained several pictures. This dispatch has to leave by courier at three this afternoon, so no report can be made to-day of results obtained by us by fishermen. The camp is named Camp Vest, in honor of Senator Vest, who is one of the most enthusiastic and successful anglers of the party. After my dispatch of yesterday from Bull creek fork, both the president and Senator Vest brought into camp five creels full of trout as the result of the afternoon's sport. No special or professional correspondents are with the party, and all dispatches purporting to be from such are spurious.

THE CHOLERA.

Hundreds of Deaths in Egypt.—The Disease Spreading.

LONDON, August 13.—Thirty-two persons died from cholera at Alexandria, on Saturday, including five Europeans. One hundred warehouses have been destroyed by fire at Salonica, Roumelia.

Deaths from cholera in the Egyptian provinces on Friday numbered 926, including 235 in the province of Dakalieh, 150 in the province of Garbieh, and 235 in Ghizeh and Atfe on Saturday. There were 789 deaths including 30 in Cairo, 141 in Ghizeh and Atfe, and 259 in the province of Siout.

Hundreds of people have fled to Cairo from Alexandria. Cherif Pasha, president of the Egyptian council of ministers, arrived at Cairo from Alexandria on Saturday. There have been no fresh cases of cholera among the British troops in Egypt, and their general health is excellent.

The sanitary commission has decided to remove the cordon around Alexandria. The deaths from cholera in Egypt on Sunday number 407. The commander of the British troops in Egypt telegraphs that two soldiers died at Suez yesterday from cholera. There was also one death from that disease yesterday among the troops at Ramleh.

THE HAGUE, August 13.—The Dutch government have received telegrams from Atchen announcing the cholera is epidemic there.

WASHINGTON, August 13.—The surgeon general of the marine hospital service has been informed that yellow fever has appeared at Cordova, and also at Ozuluca, near Jalapa.

A MUNICIPAL SENSATION.

Baltimore Officials Indicted for Alleged Crookedness in the Purchase of Supplies.

BALTIMORE, August 13.—The grand jury to-day presented all members of the late commission of the fire department of this city for malfeasance in office. The board consisted of Major William Pinkney White, ex officio president; and Samuel W. Resister, Thomas W. Campbell, J. Frank Morrison, Samuel Hanna, Bartholomew E. Smith, and Charles B. Slingluff. Bail was fixed at three thousand in each case. The presentments caused great excitement and astonishment about the city hall and the court house. The late board was superseded recently by the appointment of a fire marshal, and the presentments grew out of charges made by the present fire marshal against several members of the board, charging them with furnishing various supplies to the department, and charging more than the market rates therefor, in violation of the city ordinance.

CARVED INTO SLICES.

Four White Men Found Butchered into Mincement at Cumberland Falls.

Special to The Constitution.

CHATTANOOGA, August 13.—News has reached this city to night of a terrible tragedy which occurred at Cumberland falls, Tenn, last night. Early this morning a negro found the dead bodies of four white men, employed by Mr. Nixon, near Cumberland falls, in getting out crossties. Their bodies were hacked to pieces with knives, and the ground about the horrible scene indicated that there had been a terrible struggle before the men were killed. It is the general supposition that a number of the men were playing cards when a quarrel ensued with the above results. No further particulars can be learned.

FARMERS IN CONVENTION.

Meeting of the State Agricultural Society at DeGive's Opera House To-Day.

To-day the city is filled with the representative farmers of the state who meet in annual convention at DeGive's operahouse at nine o'clock. The meeting of the state agricultural society is always an important occasion, but the meeting of to-day is an unusually important and interesting one. As the delegates arrived yesterday they were met at the train and were escorted to the state department of agriculture where they registered. From a list of hotels that had been prepared they then selected their boarding places. To-day at 9 o'clock the society will be called to order by Hon. Thomas Hardeman, the president. The following is the programme as far as it has been arranged:

First day—August 14—prayer.
Address of welcome on behalf of the city of Atlanta by the mayor.
Response in behalf of the society.
Annual address of President Hardeman.
Report of experiments at the university farm by Professor H. C. White, of Athens.
Silk culture by Colonel Thomas C. Howard, of Kirkwood agricultural club.
Forestry by Professor J. E. Willett, of Macon.
Experience meeting at night
Second Day—August 15.—The hinderances or impediments to progressive and diversified industry, by Hon. L. F. Livingston, of Newton.
Labor and other matters in general, by Dr. S. W. Leland, of Cartersville.
Reports of committees.
Transportation—By Major W. J. Houston, of DeKalb. Discussion free for all.
Truck farming—By Captain J. G. McCall, of Brooks county.
Election of officers—President, nine vice-presidents, and nine members of the executive committee.
Selection of place for next convention.
Resolutions and closing proceedings.
Convention opens at 9 a m and 3 p m.

Up to 12 o'clock last night the following delegates had registered:

J. D. Laring, Terrell county; W. A. Janes, Terrell county; George W. Cheeves, Terrell county; J. L. Dozier, Talbot county; J. E. Dozier, Muscogee county; Thomas J. Stapleton, Webster county; D. B. Harrell, Webster county; Mark A. Cooper, Bartow county; S. J. Brown, Carroll county; B F. Wyly, Dougherty county; F. P. H. Akers, DeKalb county; L. C. Varnadoe, Thomas county; T. E. Blackshear, Thomas county; George W. Loyd, Newton county; J. H. Richards, Newton county; J. M. Roberts, Newton county; P. W. Turner, Newton county; M. A. B. Tatum, Dade county; J. Y. Wood, Walker county; J. B. Eberhart, Madison county; J. G. Deadwyler, Madison county; W. G. Hill, Coweta county; Wm. J. Anderson, Houston county; S. M. Bronson, Harris county; W. E. Brown, Houston county; Thomas Hardeman, Bibb county; William Phillips, Cobb county; Dr. P. Stolesbury, Clinch county; W. H. Felton, Macon county; E. C. Baldwin, Schley county; W. J. Northen, Hancock county; D. E. Butler, Morgan county; C. A. Redd, Muscogee county; Jesse E. Johnson, Warren county; Jesse Reese, Warren county; J. A. Shivers, Warren county; John S. Johnson, Warren county; J. F. Denton, Glascock county; James Stapleton, Jr., Glascock county; David Denton, Glascock county; S. M. H. Byrd, Polk county; J. M. Williams, Putnam county; George W. Brooks, Randolph county; J. H. Dennington, Randolph county; J. W. Nichols, Randolph county.

Many others will arrive to-day, and some are in the city who have failed to register.

Arrangements have been made with the different street car lines to pass free all the delegates wearing badges. Carriages will be secured for the accommodation of the delegates, for their exclusive use, during all hours of the day. Every facility will be furnished the delegates to visit all places of interest in the city.

The plan adopted by the city council for the entertainment of the members of the society was as follows:

The delegates and life members of the state agricultural convention are requested to report on arrival at the hall of the department of agriculture at the capitol, which has been selected as the headquarters for the delegates, where they will register their names and receive a badge and information in regard to hotel and other accommodations. DeGive's opera house has been selected as the place for holding the convention. On the assembly of the convention a speech of welcome will be delivered by his honor the mayor in behalf the city. The following committees have been appointed by Colonel R. F. Maddox, the chairman: Committee on reception—W. H. Howell, G. B. Adair, H. W. Grady, G. W. Scott, Amos Fox, R. J. Lowry, E. Haiman, V. Dunning, B. F. Longley. Committee on badges, W. H. Howell, F. G. Hancock. Committee on excursion, E. Haiman, R. J. Lowry. Committee on halls, G. B. Adair, G. W. Scott. Committee on carriages, Amos Fox, V. Dunning. Committee on music, R. H. Maddox, W. H. Howell."

The society will remain in session to-day and to-morrow.

The following is a full list of the delegates elected:

THE VERMONT TROUBLES.

Painful Quietness in Regard to Financial Matters. Barlow's Position.

ST. ALBANS, VT., August 13.—A painful quietness exists yet in regard to financial matters. Barlow is reported as saying last night that he felt pretty sure the depositors in the Vermont national bank would be secure. When asked regarding the trust company, he said he did not care to state. There are some complaints in Montreal because Barlow does not assume his place there and assert himself as president of the Southern road while negotiations are in progress. Railroad men state that the Canadian Pacific desires nothing of the Southeastern road but what is due beyond question. However, according to reliable information received here, the Canadian Pacific is interposing every possible obstacle to prevent a speedy and satisfactory sale of the road to the New York syndicate. The Canada Pacific is very naturally loth to lose the eastern outlet afforded by the southeastern road and will do what it can to hinder it. There are no new developments regarding the Trust company. President Brainderd returned from northern New York last night and something may turn up early this week.

BOSTON, August 13.—The statement of the affairs of S. C. & J. G. Phinney, boots and shoes, Boston and Stoughton, has been prepared. Unsecured liabilities aggregate $732,888, of which $100,162 is contingent indebtedness in the shape of indorsements and discounted paper. Of direct liabilities $465,922 is paper given F. Shaw & Bro. The assets consist of accounts and notes receivable, $55,661, stock about $15,000, cash $4,207, mortgage notes $1,270, and the balance in real estate in Hull and Stoughton, with the factories, machinery, horses, carriages, sleighs and harness. All the workmen have been paid in full.

CALLING ON CORRESPONDENTS.

A Seeker After Responsibility Finds More of It Than He Wanted.

WASHINGTON, August 13.—N. W. Fitzgerald, pension claim agent, who has for a long time been charged with extortion and crookedness in his practice, to-day entered the office of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, and committed an assault upon General H. V. Boynton, correspondent of the paper, for having, as Fitzgerald claimed, misrepresented him in a dispatch referring more directly to another Fitzgerald, also a claim agent and brother of N. W. Fitzgerald. Boynton acknowledged the authorship of the article, and told Fitzgerald he had not been misrepresented, and that he was worse than he had been written down. Boynton was sitting in his chair when assaulted, but the affray was brief, and Fitzgerald beat an inglorious retreat minus his hat and spectacles and plus a bruised eye and nose. Shortly afterwards Boynton, this time hunting Fitzgerald, found him, when another encounter ensued. The police captured Fitzgerald and took him to the stationhouse, where a charge of assault was preferred by Boynton. Fitzgerald is forty, and weighs 200. Boynton is nearly fifty, and weighs 130.

Fatal Hog Disease.

READING, Pa., August 13.—A fatal disease resembling cholera is prevalent among the hogs in the vicinity of Womelsdorf, this county. Some fifty have already died, and sixty more are sick beyond recovery. Different remedies have been applied without success.

PITTSBURG, August 13.—Commodore W. J. Kountz and Editor Kennedy, of the Allegheny Mail, who were recently convicted of criminal libel, have been granted a new trial.

WITH SUMMER WINDS.

O summer winds! you seem to me
Benignly soft and sweet,
As if within the waves of air
Pure ocean pulses beat.

You bring rare rhythms to my brain,
Fair fancies to my heart,
The shapeless songs that only need
The crucible of art.

THE KIMBALL.

of the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio. With the exception of a large number of road maps and their general office decorations, they lost but little, having safely removed their desks and other articles of value before the fire had reached them. They are now again at work as if they had not been interrupted, and are as attentive and business-like as ever.

Nearly all of the Kimball house tenants on the Decatur street side have found new locations, and are now either ready and rapidly getting ready for a resumption of business.

Messrs. Goode, Fontaine & Elmore, who were in the Pryor and Decatur street corner, have established themselves temporarily on the second floor of the W. D. Grant building, corner Marietta and Broad streets. There they will remain until they can secure a good ground floor in a locality that will suit them.

J. B. Daniel, the wholesale druggist, has rented 51 Broad street, where he was engaged yesterday straightening out his confused stock and ascertaining what he has left. Mr. Daniel cannot say yet where he will permanently locate.

M. Harralson & Bro. have secured the room at the corner of Peachtree and Walton streets. Their stock was found yesterday morning to be in a fearfully confused state. It will require several days to ascertain their loss. The Messrs. Harralson can not say that their present location will be a temporary one.

Mr. Gavan, the auctioneer, is now looking around for another stand in which to recommence his business.

Mr. Bogan, of the Bonanza, will reopen at No. 5 Decatur street as soon as the western wall of the old Kimball house building has been razed. He is afraid to occupy the old stand until the wall is taken down.

The Atlanta Brewing company's office is still located at No. 3. The company will retain that place.

Mr. Henry Beermann's tobacco store was closed yesterday. He was ascertaining his losses. He will remain on the corner.

Messrs. Goode, Fontaine & Elmore, real estate agents, have removed their quarters to No. 40 Marietta street, where they yesterday resumed work.

Messrs. Goodwin & Tyler, the haberdashers, have their stock stored away at No. 32 Wall street. They have not as yet opened their doors to the public, not having secured a satisfactory place.

Mr. J. A. Ansley has removed his real estate office to No. 38 Wall street.

Colonel Adair and the waterworks office are in the rear of the Centennial block.

Mr. Frierson is at 38 Wall.

Whitner & Son are in the Jackson building.

The Gate City bank is at the Atlanta National.

Mr. W. B. Burke is at 20 Peachtree.

THE QUESTION OF REBUILDING.

Shall It be the Old Kimball or a New Hotel?—What the Owners say—A Talk with Mr. Scoville.

"Will the Kimball be rebuilt?"

That was the universal question on yesterday. Quite as universal and much more earnest was the reply.

"It certainly will, for it must be."

The people of Atlanta—all classes and all conditions—were never so unanimous on one thing as that the necessity of a new hotel was absolute, and never so determined on one thing as that this necessity shall be fully and promptly met.

AS TO THE NECESSITY OF A NEW HOTEL.

Mr. Scoville said yesterday: "A new hotel in Atlanta, certainly as large as the Kimball, is a matter of pure and simple necessity. The Kimball house was not large enough for its regular business. If it had been, I should certainly not have spent $15,000 in finishing up the unfinished rooms. I needed them badly. In fact, to accommodate the travel, I had to have them, and as the proprietors would not get them in order, I took my own money and did it."

"Has your hotel been crowded for the past year?"

"Yes. More frequently overrun than less than full. I have had to advance my rates for regular boarders, and discouraged those that I had. I needed every room that I had for my transcient custom. But it is not worth discussing the absolute necessity of a large hotel being built at once. That goes without saying. You remember even when I had the Kimball I was anxious for a new hotel of equal size to be built, and offered to run it in connection with the Kimball. We really needed a new hotel then."

WHAT THE PROPRIETORS SAY.

There are five proprietors of the late Kimball. Of these, Mr. Joseph Thompson, Jr., is at Warm springs, N. C., and Mr. John Rice is at Santa Barbara, California. Both of these gentlemen have been telegraphed for and are on their way to Atlanta. The views of the other proprietors on rebuilding the hotel will be found below:

WHAT MR. THOMPSON, SR., SAYS.

A CONSTITUTION reporter yesterday went to the residence of Mr. Joseph Thompson, senior, and found that gentleman suffering slightly from a short sickness. He seemed very cheerful, however, and was not at all ill disposed to talk upon the subject of the loss of the Kimball. He asked the reporter some information as to the fire and the present appearance of the ruins.

"Have you not seen them?"

"No, I have not and I don't want to. I do not care particularly about seeing the place either, until as substantial and handsome a building as the one just burned down has been erected on the ruins."

"Then you are in favor of immediately rebuilding the house?"

"Immediately! Since 1845 the same ground has been used for hotel purposes and there is no doubt about it, the Kimball house has done as much or more towards the development of this city, than any one other enterprise. We can't do without it, and it must be erected in the same place, as there is no other available place in the city that would answer the purpose. A city's hotels are the most potent factors in their development, and without the Kimball or another as commodious, Atlanta cannot accommodate her thousands of visitors. This will certainly prove very injurious to the city."

"Are you willing to reinvest in the building of another hotel?"

"From what I know of the matter now I certainly am. I have not yet seen my agent, Mr. Culpepper, and consequently do not know the present fix of our affairs, nor what has been done by the owner. I think I shall be willing to take the same interest in a new house as I had in the Kimball. One thing is certain, I am certainly bitterly opposed to using the ground for any other purposes than the building of another hotel, and will use every effort in my power to promote the accomplishment of the latter object."

GENERAL TOOMBS.

He Wants the Hotel Rebuilt at Once, and Is Willing to Pay His Part.

General Toombs arrived in the city yesterday, and took a room at the Markham. After a short rest he went up the street and viewed the ruins of the Kimball house. While standing there he was asked if he wanted to see it rebuilt.

"Yes, sir," was the emphatic and ready response. "I want it built at once and better than before. It ought to be bigger and finer than ever."

The general expressed similar sentiments during the day, and in the afternoon talking to a party of friends in his hotel, he said: "I came here this morning expecting to see the work begun. It ought to have been commenced to-day. I am in favor of beginning the first thing to-morrow."

"Do the owners of the property intend to rebuild it?"

"I don't know. They seem to want the work done, but I believe I am the only one that is ready to come up with the money."

"You want the present owners to rebuild, then, do you?"

"Yes, sir! I am ready to give a check for my part of the expense now, and more too. I wish the others were ready."

"Do you think it a good investment."

"I do. Atlanta deserves a great hotel and will have one. If this crowd don't build one somebody else will. I am willing to put my money in one and I believe it will pay. If it don't, it's my money that's lost, and it's nobody else's business."

So the general talked all day. He says he had not a cent of insurance, but is willing to put more money where he has just lost such a considerable amount.

MR. TOM GLENN'S VIEWS.

Mr. Tom Glenn said: "I realize thoroughly that a hotel should be built, and I hope one will be. I do not think the present owners will care to put up the necessary money. They might be willing to put in all or part of the value of their land. We have lost heavily by our lack of insurance, and I think they will be disposed to let some one else build."

"You would sell the land at a fair price?"

"I speak for myself, when I say that we will sell it at any reasonable appraisement. None of us would stand in the way of any company that would like to build. We would sell cheaper to parties who wanted to build a hotel than to any others."

"You would take stock in such a company?"

"Yes. More or less, I cannot say that we would put in the value of our land. Some of us certainly will not be able to do so, but I think all would subscribe some stock. The hotel ought to be built. It must be built whether on our land or not. The Kimball house did more to bring Atlanta to city like proportions and to build it up than anything else. I hope it will be rebuilt, and we will do all that any reasonable man could ask, to bring it about even while we cannot do it ourselves."

THE PROBABLE COST OF IT.

It is estimated that a hotel of the size of the Kimball, of equal character, and much better arranged, could be built for $525,000 to $550,000. It is generally believed that the ground is worth from $125,000 to $150,000. In other words a total of $500,000 or thereabout would buy the ground and replace the Kimball in better style than it was built at first.

THE PROBABLE INCOME.

Mr. Scoville said yesterday:

"I am so confident of the success of a new hotel like the Kimball, that I will guarantee and give good bond to take a hotel in Atlanta that will cost between $350,000 and $400,000, exclusive of the ground, and will pay 8 per cent per annum for ten years, on the cost of it. I will also take $25,000 of the stock of the company that builds the hotel, if it is desired that I should do so. That is the feeling I have on the subject."

There is little doubt that a hotel properly built, and costing a half-million could be rented for $50,000 or more. The Kimball house has rented for the past few years at from $29,000 to $32,000. But these figures could be very largely increased with a new hotel and new leases. For instance: the hotel proper, which includes the bar and billard rooms, the barber shop and the news and cigar stand, rents for only $12,000. The Markham brings $10,000. Mr. Scoville rents the bar for $6,000. Mr. Kenny had offered $9,000 a year for a five years' renewal, which would have left the hotel costing net only $3,000 a year rent. The billiard room and cigar stand and barber shop would pay this balance. In other words, the bar, billiard, barber and news stands of the Kimball would have paid Mr. Scoville the whole $12,000 he paid for the hotel. Under a new lease and new hotel, the hotel and these privileges ought to rent for $20,000 to $25,000. The stores could be better rented because they would be better arranged. The best renting agents believe that the whole building would bring $50,000 a year.

CAN THE MONEY BE RAISED?

There is no doubt that the money can be raised.

If is probable that the present owners of the Kimball will not as a partnership rebuild the hotel, but they may be counted on to subscribe in land or cash surely $100,000.

A gentleman said yesterday:

"A company should be organized with the purpose of spending a round half-million dollars in cash, on the ground and building. Of this amount they ought to raise $250,000 in cash stock, and issue 6 per cent bonds for $250,000. This would give all the money needed. The money can be raised and the bonds sold in ten days, if the owners of the land will only co-operate."

Can the $250,000 in stock be secured? Undoubtedly. The owners of the land can be counted on for $100,000 in cash or land, judging from their interviews. Mr. Scoville would take $25,000. Dr. Amos Fox says he has authority to subscribe $10,000 for two parties. Two gentlemen stated to us that they would take $10,000 each in a company properly headed. It is our opinion that $100,000 could be raised by a canvass in one day if the land was put in at a fair price.

In short, the hotel must be rebuilt, and it will be done.

Hon. C. T. Zachry said yesterday: "I will take $1,000 stock in a new hotel company. The old Kimball was an honor to the state, and every man who visits Atlanta ought to subscribe something. I'm ready to put my name down and my money up any time the list is started."

ELDER'S EFFORT.

To Pay Off the Debt of the Late Archbishop—Sensational Stories.

CINCINNATI, August 13.—Archbishop elect, William Elder, yesterday issued an edict to the clergy of his diocese to meet here on the 21st day of August, to devise some means to pay to some extent the creditors of the late Archbishop Purcell, as a matter of charity, but not as a discharge of legal obligations.

The reports circulated in New York and Chicago in regard to business disturbances in Cincinnati, are wholly sensational and without basis of fact.

There is no trouble here with banks, and the interest of Cincinnati operators in Chicago provisions speculations is comparatively trifling. The best information is that Cincinnati merchants do not own over two million pounds of provisions in Chicago, and the great bulk of this is held by wealthy men who would not be hurt if it all should be lost. The small fry who operate upon margins were wiped out sometime ago.

The City National bank at Lawrenceburg, that suspended yesterday, had no important business relations. Its capital stock of $100,000 was owned by a single family, who used the bank to carry on a lumber business and saw mills, and its failure effects nobody outside of a very limited circle. Besides, the head of the family owning the bank is wealthy, and all debts will be paid in full. The Cincinnati banks, without one exception, are conducted on extra conservative principles, and can in no way be effected by the ups and downs in speculative circles. The banks at this time are unusually strong, and all of them are above the requirements as to reserve.

WITH HOSTILE INTENT.

Three Black Murderers Saved from Death by the Military.

DANVILLE, Va., August 13.—Younger, Keene and Evans, three negroes sent on for indictment to the grand jury of Pittsylvania county, for the murder of Sheppard, were kept in jail here till the morning, the sheriff, fearing that they would be lynched if put on the train for Chatham, the county seat, without military protection. About 11 o'clock Saturday night, a large body of men stopped and searched the train at Fall Creek depot, having first placed on the rails alarm torpedoes, which they took from the agent. They also kindled fires along the track. The party, numbering two hundred and fifty, afterwards set out for Danville, a distance of six miles. They came to north Danville, but hearing the alarm bell which was rung on information being received through the railroad telegraph offices, and learning that military companies were at Danville jail, under command of the mayor, they dispersed about daybreak. Last night the two military companis, one white and one colored, were on guard at the jail. This morning the prisoners were taken to Chatham by the sheriff under protection of the Danville Greys, white company.

Shoting at at a Burglar.

Yesterday morning about 11 o'clock a negro man entered W. W. Anderson's store, on Peters street, and desired to examine some goods in the front of the store. Mr. Anderson's son, aged about fourteen years, was waiting upon the darkey, and while he was thus engaged he heard the bell attachment to his money drawer ring. Running to that side of the house Master Anderson discovered a negro man hiding under the counter beside the drawer. The mystery of the ringing was thus explained, and Master Anderson demanded the darkey's surrender. The negro started to run and Master Anderson grabbed a pistol and fired at him. The ball passed through his nip, but the negro escaped.

The British Grain Trade

LONDON, August 13.—The Mark Lane express, in its review of the British grain trade, during the past week says: Grain has ripened slowly, owing to the unsettled weather. Rust and mildew have increased. Wheat is losing in quantity and quality daily. Barley and oats have much improved. English wheat has improved one shilling in a week. Trade in foreign wheat off stands was slow. Barley was steady and prices unchanged. Oats are third dearer. Trade in wheat off coast was more active. Sales of English wheat during the week were 35,131 quarters, at 43s 6d per quarter, against 10,122 quarters, at 30s 6d during the corresponding week last year.

OAK SHADE JERSEY HERD

DUNRAVEN, 7950, STANDS AT $25.00; TENELLA, 6713, as a four year old has the unequaled record of seven gallons milk a day and 22 pounds 1½ ounces butter in a week.

Edwina 6713 record at the rate of 21 pounds butter per week. Both of these cows are daughters of Signal 1170, who heads the list not only of the United States, but of the world, as a sire whose daughters have made the best records in butter. Signal is of the same family, (viz: Pansy and Alberty of value 2,6841, and she under official test made over four pounds butter a day.

Tenella is a grand-daughter and Edwina is a sister of imported "Grand Duke Alexis" 1049, and the latter is the sire of "Azalda" 3870, and she heads the list of DAMS whose daughters have made the best records.

Dunraven 7950 through his sire descendents from the same family as the "Jersey Belle of Scituate" recorded 25 pounds two ounces butter a week, and also from imported Clement 115, ancestor of "Sir George," recently sold at auction for $9,150.

Besides "Dunraven" there are four young bulls in the herd, one of the "Gilderoy" family, one of the "Alphea" and "Lady Mel," one of "Coomassie," and one of "Champion of America," each of which will stand at $5 50. Address

NEW YORK, August 13.—Weakness and depression characterized share speculation to day, and the prices current were the lowest for a long time past. From the opening there was a decided pressure to sell, which resulted in a break of 1 to 8⅝ per cent, the latter in Oregon and Transcontinental. This stock touched 59 against 67½ at the close Saturday. The market looked very bad at one time, and the announcement of the failure of a prominent house would probably have precipitated a panic. There were rumors afloat that a number of leading operators and firms were embarrassed, but the only failure was that of a small firm whose liabilities are variously estimated at from $30,000 to $60,000. A number of capitalists came down from Saratoga last night and were in conference at one of Vanderbilt's offices. The result of the meeting has not transpired, but is believed to have been held for the purpose of devising means to stem the downward movement in stocks. The Villard letter did not affect Northern Pacific and Oregon and Transcontinental to any appreciable extent until near the close, when there was a recovery of ⅝ to 1⅛ per cent. In the afternoon trading was very feverish, some shares selling at the lowest prices and others were somewhat better. As compared with Saturday's closing, prices are down 1 to 7⅝ per cent, the latter in Oregon and Transcontinental. Omaha is down 4⅛; Omaha preferred 3⅛; Central Pacific 3⅛; Northwest 3⅛; Northwest preferred 2⅛; Rock Island 2⅛; Denver 2⅝; Louisville and Nashville 2¼; Michigan Central 2; Kansas and Texas 2; Northern Pacific 2⅝; Northern Pacific preferred 3⅞; Texas Pacific 2⅞, and Union Pacific 3 per cent. THE COTTON MARKET

CONSTITUTION OFFICE,
Atlanta, August 15, 1883

New York—The cotton market underwent little change to-day, and the aspect was less bullish than several days preceding. Although a firm tone appeared before noon the strength was not sustained, and a downward movement prevailed with weakness predominating. Spots steady; middling 10¼c.

Net receipts for two days 3,047 bales against 1,411 bales last year: exports 4,767 bales; last year 5,394 bales; stock 225,174 bales; last year 153,421 bales.

Below we give the opening and closing quotations of cotton futures to-day:

OPENED.		CLOSED.
August	10 24@10 27	August	10 21@10 23
September	10 25@10 26	September	10 24@10 25
October	10 15@10 16	October	10 14@10 15
November	10 13@10 14	November	10 11@10 13
December	10 16@10 17	December	10 15@10 16

Closed steady; sales 89,000 bales.

Liverpool—Futures closed firm. Spots—Uplands 5 11-16d; Orleans 5 13-16d; sales 10,000 bales, of which 8,350 bales were American; receipts 8,050; American 6,750.

Local cotton market quiet and steady. We quote: Good middling 9¾c; middling 9½c; strict low middling 9¼c; low middling 9⅛c; strict good ordinary 9c; good ordinary 8½c; ordinary 7½c; tinges 9c; stains 5¼@7½c.

NEW YORK, August 13—The Post's cotton market report says: "Future deliveries opened slightly higher and kept on improving a few points, then lost more than they gained. Operators are evidently of the opinion that the advance of last Saturday was all that the present condition of the crop would justify; neither have the continued unfavorable reports from the stock exchange failed to add to the depression. At the third call September was sold at 10.21, October 10.11, November 10 08, December 10.12, January 10.20, March 10.44—showing a decline of 3@5-100 since last Saturday."

Miscellaneous.

ATLANTA August 13—Leather—The shoe and leather market is quiet and steady. Orders for September delivery are coming in freely, and the movement of goods seems, for the most part satisfactory. The tone of the market holds firm all the time, though the feeling is void of any undue excitement, and the condition of the market is healthy and promising to a good fall trade. Leather is particularly firm, and it is thought that our market will feel none of the bad effects of the recent failures in the east. The general stock of hides and leather is almost equal to the demand. We note no change in quotations, good damaged No. 1, 25; do. No. 2, 22@24; good stamp 28; medium good stamp 27; S. A REAL REMEDY!

Neither Mystical nor Indian in Origin, but

SCIENTIFIC AND SPECIFIC!

A Remedy of over twenty-five years standing.
A Remedy more popular at home, and where best known than all other remedies of its kind.
A Remedy indorsed by the best physicians and druggists at its home.
A Remedy that Mr. C. W. O'Neill, Goodwater, Ala., says raised his wife from an invalid's bed, and he believes saved her life.
A Remedy of which a prominent Atlanta merchant said, "I would have given $500 as soon as I would a nickel, for what two bottles of your medicine did for my daughter."
A Remedy in regard to which S. J. Cassels, M. D., druggist, of Thomasville, Ga., says: "I can recall instances in which it afforded relief after all the usual remedies had failed."
A Remedy about which Dr. W. B. Ferrell, La Grange, Ga., writes: "I have used for the last 20 years the medicine you are putting up, and consider it the best combination ever gotten together for the diseases for which it is recommended."
A Remedy of which Dr. Joel Branham, Atlanta, said: "I have examined the receipe, and have no hesitation in advising its use, and confidently recommend it."
A Remedy which the Rev. H. B. Johnson, near Marietta, Ga., says he has used in his family with "the utmost satisfaction," and recommended it to three families, "who found it to be just what it is recommended."
A Remedy of which Pemberton, Iverson & Denison say: "We have been selling it for many years, with constantly increasing sales. The article is a staple with us, and one of absolute merit."
A Remedy of which Lamar, Rankin & Lamar say: "We sold 50 gross in four months, and never sold it in any place but what it was wanted again."
A Remedy by which Dr. Baugh, of La Grange, Ga., says: "I cured one of the most obstinate cases of VICARIOUS MENSTRUATION that ever came within my knowledge, with a few bottles."
A Remedy of which Dr. J. C. Huss, of Notosulga, Ala., says: "I am fully convinced that it is unrivalled for that class of diseases which it claims to cure."
A Remedy about which Major John C. Whitner, of Atlanta, well and favorably known all over the United States as a general insurance agent, says: "I used this remedy before the war, on a large plantation on a great number of cases, and always with absolute success."
A Remedy about which Mr. J. W. Strange, of Cartersville, Ga., certifies that one bottle cured two members of his family of menstrual irregularity of many years standing.
A Remedy that is cheaper than any other medicine of its kind in the world, because one or two bottles will cure the most obstinate case.
A Remedy in regard to whose unfailing, unrivalled curative properties I have many hundreds testimonials. This great popular remedy is Bradfield's Female Regulator, (Women's Best Friend.)

SMITH'S
EXTRACT OF MAY FLOWER,
The Cap Sheaf of the Chemist's Skill.
The Great Remedy for all Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys.

This Remedy has stood the test of time, has been weighed in the scales of public opinion, and to-day has an army of men, women and children, who over their own signatures bear testimony to its curative properties. Some have been cured of Diabetes, some of Bright's Disease, some of Inflammation of the Bladder, some of Catarrh of the Bladder, some of Incontinence of the Urine, some of Leucorrhœa, or Whites, some of pains in the Back and Loins, some of diseases of the Prostate Gland.

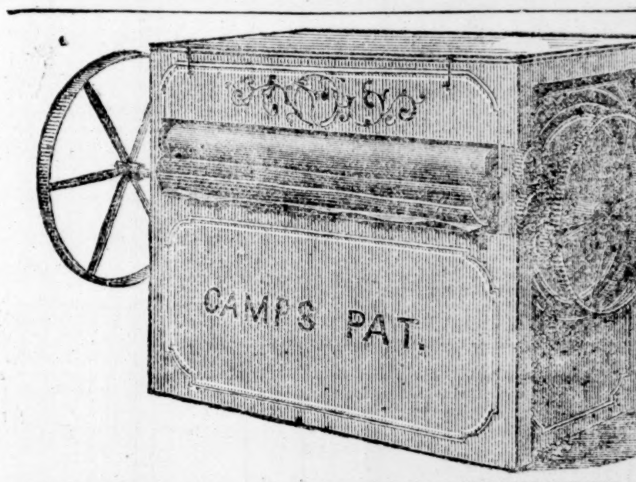

For all Diseases arising from a diseased state of the Bladder and Kidneys, this Remedy stands without a rival.

Without a rival in the number of cures effected; without a rival in the purity of its composition; without a rival in number of bottles sold. The annual sale of Smith's Extract of May Flower exceeds the sales of all other Kidney Remedies combined.

DR. ELI IVES, says: "That in many aggravated cases, where Buchu had failed to produce any benefit, May Flower has effected a speedy cure."
DR. J. H. BIRD, says: "I have found May Flower to be a remedy for all Kidney complaints, far superior to Buchu or Juniper."
DR. H. F. MARTIN, says: "May Flower acts more promptly in all diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys than any remedy which has come under my notice."
DR. BENJ. H. LONG, says: "I have found May Flower exceedingly beneficial in my treatment of females.
DR. VINC. D. HUYVETTER, says: "Without doubt May Flower is destined to work a revolution in the treatment of diseases peculiar to the urinary organs."
DR. KING, in compiling his dispensatory, has paid a merited tribute to this remedy. See page 396 King's Dispensatory.
A number of authorities might be quoted, but there are none more eminent than the names above. In addition to these authorities, a living host of 60,000, whose certificates are on file in the office of the proprietors of this remedy, bear testimony to its virtues.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

PRICE LIST AND CATALOGUE.

This cut represents my IMPROVED COTTON CONDENSER, patented September 17, 1878, and re-issued June 8, 1880. My patent covers a perforated cylinder having closed heads, with a door therein, through which accumulations may be removed from the interior of the cylinder, and a casing arranged above and below at the ends in such a manner as to close the periphery of the cylinder to prevent the escape of dust and lint into the room, also sides and bottom openings, as specified in the patent, and is the only Condenser made that will allow a free action of the gin brush in straightening the staple, thereby making a fine sample, and that removes all dust and foreign matter from the house in which the gin is at work, making a lint room as pleasant as a parlor, and is an absolute safe-guard against fire, thereby saving more than its cost in insurance every season that it is worked. All the leading Gin manufacturers have arranged to manufacture this Condenser in connection with their Gins, under a regular license from me, and will stamp the words "Patented September 17, 1878," on each Condenser so manufactured, and persons using Condensers constructed under proper authority, as above indicated, will be protected, otherwise they will be liable, as well as the person manufacturing and selling the same, from infringement of said patent.

I am prepared at short notice to furnish a Condenser of this pattern for any Gin made in America. It is so simple that by simply making the inlet to correspond with the discharge flue of the Gin it will work as well on one Gin as another.

Price, ... $1.00 per Saw.
Payable November 1st.

DR. CHEEVER'S ELECTRIC BELT, or Regenerator, is made expressly for the cure of derangement of the procreative organs. Whenever any debility of the generative organs occurs, from whatever cause, the continuous stream of ELECTRICITY permeating through the parts must restore them to healthy action. There is no mistake about this instrument. Years of use have tested it, and thousands of cures are testified to. Weakness from Indiscretion, Incapacity, Lack of Vigor, Sterility—in fact, any troubles of these organs is cured. Do not confound this with electric belts advertised to cure all ills from head to toe. This is for the ONE specific purpose. For circulars giving full information address CHEEVER ELECTRIC BELT CO., 103 Washington St., Chicago, Ill.

THROUGH THE CITY.

A GLIMPSE OF CURRENT EVENTS IN ATLANTA.

The Day's Doings in Public Offices—The Record of the Courts, the Railroads and the Hotels—Real Estate Operations—Gossip of All Kinds—Items of General Interest, Etc.

The trains were all crowded yesterday.

The recorder's court netted the city only $43 yesterday morning.

The shower yesterday afternoon was accompanied by lightning and thunder.

A large crowd of Atlantians went out to Mount Gilead camp meeting Sunday.

Mr. James Johnson's residence on Foundry street was burglarized Sunday night. Jewelry amounting in value to $75 was stolen.

Atlanta has a reputation for selling goods cheap. This fact is evidenced by the fact that P. H. Snook yesterday shipped a bill to California.

The Decatur street horse cars stood Sunday night on the track near Pryor street. The ropes across Decatur prevented them from going to the shed on Line street.

Mr. Bud Osborne's room, on Forsyth street, was entered Sunday by a burglar while Mr. Osborne was at the fire and was robbed of several shirts, some collars and cuffs and a silk hat.

Sunday night the residence of Mr. Jacob Vandiver, on Chambers street, was entered by a thief who succeeded in getting away with a gold watch and chain and about ten dollars in money.

Mattie Ellis was arrested yesterday upon a warrant charging her with larceny. The warrant was sworn out by Mrs. Stephens on Cornelia street, who alleges that the accused stole a gold ring from her.

On account of the stormy weather the meeting of the chess club was postponed until next Saturday evening at five o'clock. The committees on constitution and by-laws and on "other necessary arrangements" will then report. Also, the officers will be elected. All chess-players and others desirous of learning the game are invited to join. The meeting will be held in the chess room of the Young Men's library.

THE POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

The Regular Meeting of the Board and What was Done—The Reports.

The board of police commissioners convened in regular session last night. There were present Commissioner Fox, chairman, and Commissioners Goldsmith, Hancock and Frizzell. The stationhouse keeper's report showed that fifty-seven state cases had been made during the month. The chief's report discussed at length the work of the department during the past month and gave the condition of the city stockade. The board revised the supernumerary list. There was no other business of interest transacted and the board adjourned.

A FOOT RACE.

Messrs. Homer Reid and Peter Reagan Propose to Have a Test of Speed.

Atlanta's sporting elements are on the qui vive just now on account of a foot race between Mr. Homer Reid and Mr. Peter Reagan. It will take place to-morrow afternoon on the level plateau near the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad shops. The runners are both well known in Atlanta, and each has a fine swift stride and a good record. One of them is the swiftest base runner in the south, and has made one hundred yards within the professional limit. The other gentleman came from a country where running, jumping, etc., is taught from infancy. The distance is 100 yards. Already a large sum of money is up on the race. The friends of each contestant are sanguine and are willing to put up their bundle on their favorite. Doubtless a large crowd will be out to witness the race.

ATLANTA UNIVERSITY.

Resolution of a Colored Representative to Investigate the Spending of the Appropriation.

Yesterday, Mr. Johnson, of Lee, one of the three colored men in the house of representatives, offered a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee to investigate the expenditure of the $8,000 a year given by the state to the Atlanta university. When asked his reason for offering the resolution he said:

"There is considerable complaint about the management of the university. They don't think enough work is done with the state's money. The university has a garden in connection with it, and the free pupils are made to work in it. It seems that with what they make and what the state gives more free scholarships should be afforded.

"I hear frequent complaints among my people. I think we have the right to see a full account of the use of the appropriation. That is all my resolution asks. If the money has been judiciously and fairly used, all right. If not we ought to know it."

The committee has not yet been appointed.

TUCKER'S TAKE.

The Result of a Too Intimate Friendship Between Two Dukies.

The usually quiet burg of West End was yesterday aroused at an early hour in the morning by a slight fracas between Jeff Davis and Andy Tucker, two gents of the colored persuasion, who live some five miles from the city in the direction of East Point. It seems as if they had been on very intimate terms for some time past, and on Sunday night Tucker had accepted an invitation from Davis to spend the night with him, which he did. His departure, however, at an extremely early hour in the morning, together with the fact that it was painfully unceremonious, no thanks having been expressed, was looked upon by Davis in a very suspicious light, and he immediately began a search to see if his friend had taken away any souvenirs of his visit of the night. He found two coats and several articles of less value missing, and arming himself with a seven shooter he hastily followed the direction in which he supposed his friend had gone, and succeeded in overtaking him at Mr. Caldwell's store in West End. Three unsuccessful shots fired at him made Tucker quicken his speed, but he was again overtaken at Middlebrooks on Peters street, and made to unload himself of one of the coats and two dollars and a half, for which he had sold the other. He now languishes in the calaboose for so unreasonable an overlooking of the rules of etiquette.

A FIRE YESTERDAY.

A Row of Small Shanties Destroyed by the Flames—A False Rumor.

The alarm of fire turned in yesterday from box 16, located at the corner of Peachtree and Ivy streets, created quite an excitement wherever it was heard. Coming so soon upon the big conflagration of Sunday everybody was exceedingly anxious to ascertain the material upon which the flames were feeding, and when the fire brigade moved up Peachtree hundreds of men, boys and darkies followed rapidly.

The fire was found to be located on the corner of Harris and Calhoun streets and was rapidly consuming three small cottages belonging to the Hon. Frank P. Rice and the Crusette estate. One of the cottages was located on the corner of the streets designated above, one was on Calhoun street, and one was on Harris street. They were so near each other that the burning of either without the other was simply impossible.

The fire brigade lost no time in reaching the place, and in a twinkling three streams of water were being poured upon the flames, but so far had the fire advanced when the alarm was given that the preservation of any of the buildings was simply impossible. The three cottages were occupied by colored people, and they succeeded in getting out most of their household goods, and the loss was very light. A shoemaker named Johnson was in one of the buildings. He rescued his household goods, but lost about $50 worth of stock. William Weems occupied a portion of one of the other cottages and used it as a grocery and fruit store. Most of his stock perished, and his loss is estimated at about $100. A woman named Wilkins was in the other cottage.

The origin of the fire is unknown but is attributed to the work of rats or mice with matches. The buildings were inferior structures and can be replaced at a cost of $200 each.

Quite an excitement was created during the fire by the announcement that two children had perished in the flames. The children could not be found anywhere, and their mother created the excitement. The chief of the fire department was about to order the entire force to concentrate their labor on the building in which the children were supposed to be when the objects of his proposed search suddenly appeared.

BRADSTREET BUDGET.

The List of Failures in the South for the Past Week.

There were 168 failures in the United States reported to Bradstreet's during the past week, 15 more than the preceding week, 75 more than the same week in 1882, and 62 more than the same week in 1881. Compared with the previous week the middle states had 38, an increase of 6; New England states 34, an increase of 7; western states 47, an increase of 7; southern states 21, a decrease of 2; Pacific states and territories 28, a decrease of 9; Canada and the Provinces 36, an increase of 4. The important failures were Hersey, Whittier & Wyman, hides and leather, Wright, Worster & Co., wool, the Auburndale watch company, manufacturers of watches, William B. Fowle, president of Auburndale watch company, the Whipple music company, and Charles W. Clement, wholesale boots and shoes, all of Boston, Mass; Stein & Trough, flour mill, Pottsville, Pa.; George R. Y.; The First National bank and the Indiana Banking company, Indianapolis, Ind. In the principal trades they were as follows: General stores, 31; grocers, 22; liquors, 15; boots and shoes, 11; hotels and restaurants, 9; dry goods, 6; hardware, 6; bankers, banks and brokers, 7; clothing, 5; leather, 5; bakers and confectioners, 4; drugs, 4; furniture, 4; butchers, 3; coal, 3; grain, flour, etc., 3; jewelry, 3; paper, 3; tobacco and cigars, 3; books, etc., 2; iron, 2; lumber, 2; millinery, 2; oil, 2; commission, 1; cotton, 1.

Only four states whose trade is tributary to Atlanta are represented in the list. They are:

ALABAMA.

Almond—W. S. Rice, general store, is reported to have fatled and left town. C. P. Motley & Son, Daviston, Alabama, are said to have a mortgage on his stock and to have taken possession of his notes and accounts.

FLORIDA.

Lake City—J. G. Hinson, general store, has failed and closed out.

GEORGIA.

Bainbridge—Smith, Boynton & Fleming, general store and turpentine, have assigned.

Miller's Station—A. L. Manlock (agent), general store, has been closed by the sheriff.

TENNESSEE.

Glen Mary—R. Huott, general store, etc., is reported offering to compromise at 50 cents.

Hellenwood—J. A. Potter, general store, has assigned.

Jackson—C. F. Willey, confectionery, who assigned recently, has liabilities of about $1,200 and assets $550.

Knoxville—J. P. Thomas, marble. His affairs are said to be in the hands of an assignee, and it is thought will pay about 85 per cent.

THE FARMERS.

The State Agricultural Society Which is to Meet in Atlanta.

Our citizens are making arrangements to greet the members of the State agricultural society cordially to-day.

It has been sometime since this society have held a meeting in our city. The people of Atlanta have a high regard for the society. They recognize the importance of the society, composed as it is of representative farmers of the state, and no pains will be spared to make the members feel at home while here.

Saturday there was a meeting of the committee who has in charge the details of the reception, at the mayor's office and the following is the action of said committee:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, ATLANTA, GA., August 11, 1883.—The committee of the city council, and citizens appointed to make arrangements to receive the State agricultural convention, which meets on the 14th, submit the following as the plan adopted:

The delegates and life members of the State agricultural convention are requested to report on arrival, at the hall of the department of agriculture, at the capitol, which has been selected as the headquarters for the delegates, where they will register their names and receive a badge and information in regard to hotel and other accommodations. DeGive's opera house has been selected as the place for holding the convention. On the assembly of the convention a speech of welcome will be delivered by his honor, the mayor, in behalf of the city. The following committees have been appointed by Colonel R. Maddox, the chairman: Committee on reception—W. H. Howell, G. B. Adair, H. W. Grody, G. W. Scott, Amos Fox, R. J. Lowry, E. Haiman, J. Dunning, R. F. Longley. Committee on badges, W. H. Howell, F. G. Hancock. Committee on excursion, E. Haiman, R. J. Lowry. Committee on halls, G. B. Adair, G. W. Scott. Committee on carriages, Amos Fox, V. Dunning. Committee on music, R. H. Maddox, W. H. Howell.

The Atlanta Musical Union band will furnish music on Tuesday night at the assembly of the convention. Arrangements have been made with the different street car lines to pass free all the delegates wearing badges. Carriages will be secured for the accommodation of the delegates, for their exclusive use, during all hours of the day. Every facility will be furnished the delegates to visit all places of interest in the city.

Another Strong Indorsement.

C. B. GIBSON,

Anylitical Chemist for the Chicago College of Physicians and Surgeons, gives his opinion of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder.

CHICAGO, March 31, 1883.

MESSRS. STEELE & PRICE,

Gentlemen—After the examination of many samples of baking powders, which I purchased in the open market, I find Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder to be a superior article, free from any adulterant or deleterious chemical, such as terra alba, alum, etc. I find it to be composed of articles of a superior quality, combined in such proportions as to render the greatest volume of carbonic acid gas, which shows it to be a perfect powder, based on scientific formulæ. I find it to contain no ammonia compounds, which are products of animal and vegetable decomposition, and which I would consider unhealthful, inasmuch as it is absorbed by the dough to a certain extent in the baking process. In fact, by my examination and experiments I am lead to believe "Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder" to be a superior article, and one for efficiency and healthfulness I would not hesitate to recommend. Respectfully,

C. B. GIBSON,
Anylitical Chemist,
College of Physicians and Surgeons.

G. W. ADAIR'S

Office Moved to Rear of Beermann & Khurt's, Centennial Block, Fronting on the Railroad.

I will have my safe open early this morning and open my real estate office in the rear of Beermann & Khurt, fronting on the railroad. The water-works office will also be moved to the same place. I was whipped out in the war, broke out in the panic, and now burnt out. Still I am in the real estate business, and respectfully ask my old friends, and new ones too, to stand up to me in this last misfortune. My loss is a severe one. My splendid city map, made by actual survey, and all my seven volumes of indexed plats containing every subdivision of land of any importance ever made in the city or the county, all are burned. I shall immediately put two draughtsmen to work and reproduce my plats. It will take time, skill, patience and money to do it, and now I ask every man in the city, county or state who has in his possession a plat of any survey made in this city or county to lend it to me long enough to make a copy in a book prepared for that purpose. The present and ex-city engineer can also do me a great favor by lending me their field books from which I can make copies. In this way I can soon have another set of plat books on file. I have been kind and accommodating to them in the past, and ask them now, and have no doubt but that they will act on the idea of one good turn deserves another. Very respectfully,

G. W. ADAIR.

Gate City National Bank.

August 13th, 1883.

To the Public: We take this opportunity of acknowledging the kindness of the Atlanta National Bank in tendering us the use of an office, and in volunteering to pay all demands of our customers in our emergency. We have succeeded in effecting an entrance to our vault and safe, and find everything in a perfect condition, and there will be no interruption whatever to our business. The public will be duly notified of any change in our location.

Respectfully, L. J. HILL, President.

Haralson, Bros. & Co., having been burned out in the Kimball house fire are located for the present at No. 34 Peachtree street, opposite Mark Berry's shoe store, and will be ready in a few days to supply the trade with anything they may want in our line. Anyone wanting to make payments or collections will please call at No. 34 Peachtree street. Very respectfully,

M. HARALSON, BROS., & Co.

CONSUMPTION.

Important to the Public as Well as the Medical Profession.

Hall's Journal of Health, referring to consumption, makes the following important statement:

"Consumption usually begins with a slight, dry cough in the morning, then on going to bed, getting more and more frequent, with more and more phlegm, increasing debility, thinness of flesh, shortness of breath and quickness of pulse. In fatal cases its average course is about two years; hence the importance of arresting the disease as early a stage as possible, and the sooner rational means are employed for this purpose the greater the chance of success. The disease is owing to an irritation commencing in the throat and extending to the lungs, so that the action is interfered with, and the blood does not receive sufficient oxygen to purify it. The most marked sign of lung disease is emaciation, and the most positive indication of returning health is increase in weight.

So speaks Hall's Journal of Health, and we may add that in desperate cases, and, in fact, in all cases of consumption, or troubles of the throat and lungs, immediate relief may be obtained and a permanent cure effected by the use of Dr. William Hall's Balsam for the lungs, a medicine known for more than thirty-five years as an unfailing remedy for coughs, colds, bronchitis and all pulmonary and pectoral diseases. That the worse cases of consumption have been cured by the use of Hall's Balsam has been attested to by the thousands who have used it, or have been cognizant of its wonderful remedial efficacy.

Session opens October 1st. Address the president, Springhill college, Mobile, Ala.

LaGrange Female College.

The notice of this time-honored institution of learning appears in our advertising columns this morning. It was organized as a school for young ladies in 1833, and has grown into a chartered college of high grade, awarding honors and conferring degrees. Its buildings are now completed, save some exterior ornamentation, making the college building—which contains the largest chapel in the state—one of the most commodious and convenient structures anywhere to be found. The trustees are now taking steps to enlarge the boarding department to meet the demands of increasing patronage. Rev. Josiah Lewis, D. D., late chancellor of the Southern university of Alabama, has been added to the faculty, and will bring ripe scholarship and rare experience to his work. Great attention is paid to musical training, and the college has been fortunate in securing Miss Ordway, late of Boston, as principal of the music faculty.

We heartily commend this college. The late commencement shows thorough work on the part of teachers and pupils. Parents may safely send their daughters to the care and instruction of Dr. Heidt and his faculty.

As we wish to move to Wall street and engage exclusively in wholesale business, we offer for rent until January 1st our present stand, corner Pryor and Decatur streets. We've no doubt a satisfactory lease can be made with owners of building for longer time. We also offer for sale the best assorted retail stock of drugs and lot of furniture and fixtures in the city, or will sell fixtures separately.

POINTS

About the new improved Atlanta Watch.

1
The best mechanical construction, embodying principles that will produce the most accurate time, with the smallest amount of friction, and securing a Watch that will run from 36 to 45 hours instead of 30 to 32.

2
Substantial in all its parts, so that it will stand the roughest usage; particularly accepted for railroad and all other purposes where utmost accuracy is necessary and hardest wear is given.

3
The best protected against dust and cinders of railroad trains, having around each movement a special dust-excluding band for that purpose.

4
It has new improvements that can only be found upon our watch, and in this particular as much superior to the old style watch as the breech-loading gun is more desirable than the old "flint and steel."

5
By the use of our new Patent Regulator the watch can be quickly and accurately regulated, and by the means of which we have secured such remarkable results in time-keeping, as certified to by 350 names which we have on file.

6
The Factory being here at home, should an accident occur to any part, a duplicate of that part can be supplied immediately and the watch put running again in thirty minutes.

7
Every watch is fully guaranteed by a responsible home establishment, and the prices are very low for first-class time-pieces.

Call and examine, or send for our descriptive Catalogue.

A Colored Convention.

There was a meeting of Atlanta's colored citizens at Stephenson hall, on Decatur street, last night. The meeting had for its object the election of delegates to the "race" convention, which is to meet in Louisville. There were present over two hundred of the leading colored men of Atlanta, and the meeting was quiet and orderly.

W. D. Tunsell, a Pryor street shoemaker, called the meeting to order, and Smith Easly, the mail agent, acted as secretary. Speeches were made by several of the leading spirits. The following are the delegates to the convention: W. A. Pledger, Smith Easly, Jas. B Parker, J. C. Shelton, Jas Tate, W. D. Moore, W. C. Wimbish, J. McHenry, A. A. Blake, W. D. Tunsell and Rev. J. M. Jones.

Run Over and Killed.

An old negro eighty-five years old, was cut in two yesterday by an East Tennessee train at Stockbridge His name was Merritt.

PERSONAL.

General Phil Cook is in the city.

Mr. Pat Fallon has cast his mantle in the "Grant" and seems perfectly at home with his linen duster and socks.

Captain Tiernan and family, and Captain Smith, wife and daughter, 3d artillery, have secured elegant quarters at the Grant house for the season.

Captain Henry A. Newman, of Missouri, is in the city on a visit to relatives in this state. Captain Newman is a prominent democratic politician in his state.

Major A. A. Wian, of Savannah, passed through the city yesterday on his return from the reunion of the Third Georgia regiment at Tallulah. He will spend a few days at Acworth before returning home.

Mr. Sam Josepha, and everybody, north, south, east and west, in the United States, is in the city, making arrangements for the united railroad shows of the Sells Bros., which will visit Atlanta Saturday, October 27th.

Mr. John P. Young, a well known young man of Atlanta, died at his mother's residence, on Decatur street yesterday, with brain fever. Mr Young was a very popular young man and held a responsible position on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia. He was at one time connected with the editorial staff of the News, formerly published in this city.

Mrs Eliza Harris Stewart, who is connected with the Wesleyan female institute, Staunton, Va., will leave Atlanta Monday, the 17th of September, for Staunton. She will take charge of any young ladies who desire to attend that institution. For further particulars address Mrs. Stewart at No. 15 East Cain street, Atlanta, Ga. tu th
